TWENTY-FIVE IN DEATH LIST

More Fatalities in the Western Maryland Train Disaster.

SCENE IS REVOLTING

Dead and Mangled Bodies Line Tracks and Many Pinioned Beneath Debris.

FARMERS GO TO THE RESCUE

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

BALTIMORE, MD., June 18.—The death roll of last night's disaster on the Western Maryland railroad now foots up 25 and this number is likely to be increased from among the list of those grievously mangled.

All the dead were employes of the railroad, returning to their homes in the small towns along the railroad to spend Sunday. With the exception of the train crews they had been at work repairing the damage done to the roadbed 10 days ago by a minor freight wreck at Mount Hope station, near this city. The passenger train carried a large number of passengers, all the coaches being filled. As many of the workmen as could do so went into the baggage car, the remainder of the gang of 25 finding places on the platforms between the mail and baggage cars and between the latter and the tender.

In the neighborhood of Patapsco station, about eight miles from Westminster, the Western Maryland has many curves and that just west of the bridge crossing the Patapsco river is a sharp one. An extra freight, made up of heavy coal and provision cars, was running east. It should have taken a siding to allow the passenger train to pass. Such were the orders. Why they were disregarded will never be known, for those who should have seen that they were obeyed are dead.

Tracks Strewn With Dead.

The passenger train was running at a speed of 30 miles an hour and the freight was making good time with the two engines by which it was being drawn. Just west of the bridge they came together with terrific force, the three engines being piled one upon another, fortunately in such a manner that sufficient steam connections were broken to relieve the boiler and thus prevent the further horror of one or more explosions.

The fearful impact drove the passenger tender into the baggage car and demolished it and the mail car. In an instant the peaceful country scene was changed into the likeness of a shambles. Along the tracks on both sides were scattered dead and frightfully mangled men, these latter more fortunate than those who had been in the baggage car and on the engine, for most of them were still pinioned in the wreckage out of the immediate reach of helping hands.

The damage to the other cars of the passenger train was confined almost entirely to broken windows and doors and the injures of their occupants to bruises from the shaking up and minor cuts from flying glass.

There was an instant rush to escape and for a moment none seemed able to think what to do in the presence of the carnage, into the midst of which they stepped upon leaving the coaches. Heart-rending shrieks from the injured quickly brought to the scene the inhabitants of all the farm houses within a considerable radius and these immediately set to work to do what they could to ease the suffering.

Farmers' Wives at Nurses.

Farmers' wives and daughters made bandages of their clothing and household linen and worked heroically amidst the blood and grime. One or two physicians who had been passengers on the wrecked passenger train directed their efforts.

As soon as possible a messenger was hurried to the nearest telegraph station to summon help from Westminster. There all the physicians in the town were gathered at the station when the fast mail from Blue Ridge summit, bound for Baltimore, pulled in. The passengers left the cars, the medical men hurried aboard and the train made record time to the scene of the wreck. By this time another relief train was on the way from Baltimore bearing more physicians and supplies for the relief of the injured.

As fast as they could be taken from the wreckage the dead were placed aboard the train from Westminster and taken to that town and Union Bridge. The more seriously injured were brought to this city. At Union station when the first train load of human wreckage arrived five patrol wagons and two ambulances were in waiting. When these were filled express wagons were pressed into service. Of the victims of the disaster who were lifted from the cars, many were unconscious and one had died on the trip.

At Westminster a crowd of at least 1,000 persons met the funeral train, and as many of the dead had friends and relatives in the town, there were terrible scenes at the engine house, where the bodies were taken and exposed for identification.

According to a statement made by the railroad officials today the wreck was due, as far as can be learned, to forgetfulness on the part of the engineer and conductor of the freight train, who, after the passage of train No. 17, which leaves Baltimore at 4:15 for Union Bridge, seemed to be impressed with the idea that No. 5 passenger train had also passed.

Leading Citizen Mysteriously Shot.

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., June 18.—(Special.)—Walter Stephens, a well-known citizen, was shot in a resort at noon today and seriously wounded. A witness claims Stephens was shot by a woman heavily veiled, who entered the house by a rear door. Stephens claims he accidentally shot himself. Officials are investigating.

Might As Well Make the Best of It.

SANITATION IS MAIN PROBLEM

Yellow Fever Conditions Are Becoming More Serious at the Isthmus.

RUMOR OF OFFICIAL HITCH

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau, Room 16, Postal Building, WASHINGTON, D. C., June 18.

Chief Engineer J. F. Wallace of the isthmian canal commission will arrive in Washington June 22, and before he returns to Panama some problems connected with the work of canal digging will be settled. Mr. Wallace's return at this time is the result of certain problems which he has not been able to solve in the way he desired. He will have conferences with President Roosevelt and Secretary Taft.

From various unofficial sources have come rumors of friction between Mr. Wallace and some one else, but no details are obtainable and officials here justly disparage any such talk.

It is no longer denied that the yellow fever situation is most serious. The cases developed during June have averaged almost one a day. This is a higher rate than at any time since the United States undertook the work of canal construction.

Secretary Taft has had several conferences with President Roosevelt concerning the yellow fever, and it has been determined to spare no expense or effort to stamp out the disease. Col. William C. Gorgas, chief sanitary officer of the canal zone, has been directed to use whatever measures he deems necessary to fight the disease. It is realized that the climate of Panama is the enemy of the white man and that sanitation is fully as great a problem as construction. Col. Gorgas achieved great reputation by his work in conjunction with Col. Read in clearing Havana of yellow fever just after the same way, but Cuba, being an island with an easier subject of sanitation than the isthmus of Panama, a great highway of commerce with arteries of trade and travel which cannot be controlled completely by quarantine measures however strict. It is unlikely in view of the present situation that there will be any more announcements that the fever is disappearing. Such announcements in the past have been simply mocked by reappearance of the malady.

SIGSBEE'S SQUADRON SAILS TO BRING HOME JONES' BODY

Remains Will Be Carried Aboard the Brooklyn Amid Salutes of French and American Warships.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 18.—Rear Admiral Sigsbee's squadron, which was detailed from the North Atlantic fleet to bring the body of John Paul Jones to this country, started on its voyage to France today.

The squadron, consisting of the flagship Brooklyn and the cruisers Chattanooga, Tacoma and Galveston, arrived at the naval anchorage off Tompkinsville about two weeks ago and remained there pending the arrangement by the French authorities of the ceremonies incident to the embarkation of the body of the admiral at the port of Cherbourg.

The remains of the great admiral will be carried aboard the Brooklyn amid the salutes of the French and American warships and placed on a flag-draped catafalque erected on the deck forward of Admiral Sigbee's quarters, after which the squadron will proceed for Annapolis, where final interment will take place.

OFFER PRINCE CARL AS KING OF NORWAY

LONDON, June 18.—The Copenhagen correspondent of the Daily Mail says he learns on excellent authority that the majority of the members of the Swedish riksdag are ready to agree to King Oscar's third son, Prince Carl, becoming king of Norway, providing the Norwegian government shall demolish the fortifications on the frontier and enter into an arbitration treaty with Sweden.

JAPANESE HAVE RUSSIANS FLANKED FOR BIG BATTLE

St. Petersburg Thinks Engagement in Prospect in Manchuria—Czar's Soldiers Driven from Liaoyangwopeng and Other Places.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

ST. PETERSBURG, June 18.—The operations in Manchuria appear to be in full march toward a big engagement, the Japanese having pushed forward as far as Liaoyangwopeng west of the Liao river, 33 miles north of Fakumen. The Japanese have strong forces here as well as in the rear of Lieut. Gen. Linevitch's advance detachments near Chantatu, and even threaten the flank of the fortified positions at Lipingai, where Gen. Linevitch intended to offer battle, from which he pushed far to the southward during the months of inactivity on the part of the Japanese army. It is not known here whether Gen. Linevitch will retire slowly on these positions or whether, as he intimated recently in an interview, he intends to meet the Japanese flanking operations to the westward by a counter offensive movement.

TOKYO, June 18.—The following report has been received from the Manchurian armies:

"In the Welyuanpaomen district at 2 o'clock on the morning of June 16, 500 of the enemy's cavalry advanced against Kuyushu, but were repulsed. In the Chamotu district our advanced force, after driving out the enemy stationed at Sumiencheng, occupied that village. In the Taslamotun district our detachment, after dislodging the enemy's cavalry at Gouchatzu, eight miles west of Sumiencheng, occupied that village.

"In the Kangpiu district at 1 o'clock on the morning of June 16 our center column, after routing the enemy's cavalry outposts at Tienchiawopeng, 16 miles northeast of Kangping and continuing a vigorous pursuit, attacked the enemy's position at the southern end of Liaoyangwopeng and to the eastward, between 4 and 8:30 o'clock and at 9 o'clock we completely occupied Liaoyangwopeng. Our right column after driving the enemy's cavalry before it, occupied Lochuanpou, nine miles east of Liaoyangwopeng. This column again shelled the enemy's cavalry retreating to the northward inflicting heavy injury. The enemy was finally thrown into great confusion. The left column poured a fierce fire upon 1,000 of the enemy's cavalry retreating to the northward of Liaoyangwopeng and inflicting heavy damage.

"According to prisoners 5,000 cavalry with 20 guns forming part of Lieut. Gen. Milstchenko's army occupied Liaoyangwopeng. The main force retreated northward and parts of it to the northeastward and northwestward in disorder. There are evidences that the enemy was panic-stricken and utterly confused. Abandoned provisions and clothing indicate the great difficulty the enemy had in carrying off supplies. In retreating the enemy fired a house south of Liaoyangwopeng and it is presumed that he intended to incinerate his dead.

"Our casualties were 20 killed and 155 wounded. The number of the enemy's casualties is not certain. His dead left in front of the center column numbered 80 and therefore the total Russian losses in all directions seems to be great."

TWENTIETH CENTURY TRAIN BROKE RECORD

Can Run the Distance Between New York and Chicago in Fourteen Hours.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CLEVELAND, O., June 18.—What was the most remarkable railroad run on record was made tonight, when the new eastbound Twentieth Century train of the Lake Shore and New York Central railroad arrived at the station in this city 21 minutes ahead of time. In the 357 miles from Chicago to Cleveland the new flyer arrived at the three terminals 50 minutes ahead of schdule time, 13 minutes ahead at Elkhart, 101 miles from Chicago; 15 minutes ahead at Toledo and 21 minutes ahead at Cleveland. An average of 65 to 70 miles an hour was maintained.

C. F. Daly, passenger traffic manager of the road, who was in charge of the train, said the run demonstrated the ability of the Lake Shore and New York Central limited trains to cover the distance between New York and Chicago in 14 hours flat.

AFTER "TOM" TAGGART.

The National Democratic Chairman's Gambling Resort Gets a "Tip" to Close Its Doors.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 18.—(Special.)—Gov. Hanley has written a letter to the local officer of Orange county calling attention to the charges of violations of the gambling laws at French Lick, the hotel of which National Democratic Chairman Taggart is manager, and suggesting that the matter ought to receive investigation, and if there is gambling at the resort action should be taken at once for its suppression.

There has been a quiet investigation on foot for the past two days by some one supposed to be representing the executive, and the hotel company or the man in charge of the gambling privileges received a "tip" yesterday and today no gambling was allowed, although the hotel was crowded with guests.

NEGRO IS BEATEN BY A CHICAGO MOB

Disturbance an Outgrowth of Labor Troubles—Strike to Be Declared Off.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, June 18.—Charles Tull, a negro, and two companions, who arrived today from Iowa, were mistaken for non-unionists while searching for rooms near West Forty-seventh street and Ashland avenue and were attacked by a crowd of strike sympathizers. Tull's companions escaped uninjured, but Tull, after being beaten and chased, was rescued by the police while efforts were making to lynch him. His condition is serious.

It was freely predicted tonight by both the members of the Employers' association and by labor leaders that the teamsters' strike, which has been in progress for two months, would be a thing of the past before the end of this week.

Efforts are now making in two directions to bring about an adjustment of the difficulty. According to an officer of the Chicago Federation of Labor, the strike will be called off by the strikers. As a step toward this end, it was decided today at an executive meeting of the Chicago Federation of Labor to begin missionary work tomorrow morning to secure a majority vote.

GAS EXPLOSION CLAIMS FOUR

A Quartet of South Side Italians Are Probably Fatally Burned.

LOOKING FOR WINE

Gas Fumes Are Found Instead and the House Is Blown Up.

FATAL SPOT IS AGAIN VISITED

Four persons were perhaps fatally burned and the house at 1010 Carson street blown down in an explosion of natural gas yesterday afternoon. Within the same block four explosions have occurred within the last seven years, costing the lives of a dozen victims. The victims of yesterday's accident are:

THE INJURED.

SALVADORE SUNSERI, aged 35; lived at 1010 Carson street; burned about face, hands and body; little hope for recovery; at South Side hospital.

NICHOLAS SUNSERI, aged 48, a brother of Salvadore, with whom he lived and was engaged in business; burned over face, hands and body; little hope of recovery; at South Side hospital.

SALVADORE GAROFOLO, aged 36; lives at 114 South Twelfth street; burned about face and hands; taken home.

COSIMO CANCILLA, aged 43, a cousin of the Sunseris; seriously burned about face and hands; taken to his home at 1113 Bingham street.

In the basement of the building the Sunseri brothers, who engage in an extensive fruit business, had a plant for ripening bananas. Several small gas stoves were scattered about the floor, around which the bunches of fruit were piled. Down here also was kept a barrel of wine, which was almost empty. Garofolo and Cancilla were spending the afternoon at the house and shortly before 6 o'clock Nicholas Sunseri turned to his guests and asked them to follow him to the cellar and share some wine. The trio followed and picked their way among the stacks of bananas.

Sunseri struck a match and instantly the cellar was filled with flame. The entire side of the building was blown out and the men, with their hands and faces blackened and blinded by the fire, groped instinctively toward a small window where Cancilla and Garofolo managed to crawl out. An alarm was turned in and the firemen and police rescued the two brothers, who were found in the debris suffering great agony. They were sent to the South Side hospital in a patrol wagon, while the other men were cared for at the office of Dr. W. H. Weber.

The building is owned by W. H. Wolfkind of Buffalo. It is a total wreck. The damage will reach $2,000 to building and stock of fruit. The building at 1008 Carson street was wrecked by an explosion of natural gas three years ago, and four persons lost their lives. An explosion of gasoline in a sewer caused much damage and several deaths some time before and seven years ago several persons were burned to death in an explosion on the Sarah street side of the block.

SIX MORE DIE FROM THE HEAT

Four Men Fatally Prostrated by the Continued High Temperature.

DEATH OF BATHERS

Waiter Drops Dead in Restaurant and Policeman Faints in Funeral Parade.

LARGE PLANT TO BE CLOSED

Six more deaths are registered as the result of the present heated spell. Four of the deaths were the result, direct or indirect, of heat prostration, while the other two victims were boys drowned while endeavoring to cool themselves by bathing in the rivers. The prostrations, not fatal, reported were few. This is attributed to the fact that yesterday was Sunday, when stores, factories and offices were closed, and the wise citizen did not exert himself more than was absolutely necessary. The heat yesterday was 90 degrees at 3 o'clock, 2-10 of a degree lower than the extreme temperature of Saturday, and a breeze tempered the heat. The weather man promises lower temperatures for today. The names of yesterday's victims are:

DEAD FROM HEAT.

MARTIN SCHERF, aged 80, 2707 Sarah street.

ABRAD MIKIC, aged 45, 13 Water street, Duquesne.

DANIEL MILES, aged 61, 3314 Bedford avenue.

WILLIAM TUCKER, aged 41, 2826 Carey alley.

PROSTRATED BY HEAT.

JOSEPH MATTHEWS, aged 25, Thirty-third street.

HENTON M'GREGORY, aged 30, 1296 Carson street.

POLICEMAN ADAM NEIMEIER, Allegheny.

MRS. J. L. LENNEN, aged 34, 10 Lombard street, Allegheny.

JACOB T. WEBER, aged 32, 604 Wylie avenue.

CHARLES O'CONNELL, aged 30, North avenue, Millvale.

DROWNED WHILE BATHING.

WALTER STANTON CASKEY, aged 11, 224 East Jefferson street, Allegheny.

CHARLES MONTAG, aged 16, 173 Monterey street, South Side.

Died on His Doorstep.

Martin Scherf, aged 80, died at his home, 2707 Sarah street, South Side, from heart trouble, aggravated by the intense heat. Mr. Scherf was sitting on the steps of his home shortly after 3 o'clock last evening, when he became unconscious and in a few minutes expired. Mr. Scherf had lived on the South Side for over 50 years. For a long time he was a shearsman at the Jones and Laughlin mills, but retired some years ago. He is survived by two sons, William H. and Edward Scherf, both residents of the South Side.

William Tucker dropped dead at his home, 2826 Carey alley, South Side, at 5:30 o'clock last evening. Dr. M. F. O'Brien was called in but could give no aid. Tucker was subject to rheumatism and was complaining of that yesterday and also was greatly troubled by the heat. He was 41 years of age, and was employed as a laborer by the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company.

Waiter Is Fatally Prostrated.

Daniel Miles, aged 61, of 3314 Bedford avenue, yesterday died at his home from heat prostration. He was employed as a waiter in a restaurant at 1209 Wylie avenue and became overheated while at work. He went to his home and died two hours afterward.

Abrad Mikic, aged 45, an Austrian with a wife and children in his native land, died from heat prostration in the yards of the Union railroad at Fort Perry yesterday. Mikic arrived in this country two weeks ago. Last week he secured work on No. 2 dam. He became sick yesterday afternoon and started for his boarding house, 13 Water street, Duquesne. An hour later he was found dead, lying on a cinder pile.

While sporting about in the Allegheny river at the foot of Walker street, Allegheny, Walter Stanton Caskey, aged 11, was drowned yesterday afternoon. The body was recovered later and taken to the home of the boy's father, James Caskey, Jr., 224 East Jefferson street, Allegheny. With several companions young Caskey left home about 10 a. m. and went to the river. None of the boys could swim and it is thought Caskey stepped into a hole made by a sand dredger. Several men who were sitting on the river bank went to the boy's rescue, but he sank before they could reach him.

Almost Drowned His Companion.

Charles Montag, aged 16, of 173 Monterey street, South Side, yesterday afternoon was drowned in the Monongahela river at the foot of South First street. Montag could not swim. His companion, George Schweigert, of 169 Monterey street, undressed and plunged into the river. Montag asked him to take him into the water. Schweigert told Montag to wait a few minutes until he recovered from his first plunge. Montag persisted and Schweigert led him into the water. They waded out some distance and Montag became frightened and lost his footing. Schweigert tried to rescue him, but after being dragged under the surface twice by Montag he was compelled to abandon him. His body was rescued 15 minutes afterward.

Joseph Matthews, aged 25 and single, of Thirty-third street, an orderly in the West Penn hospital, fell from heat prostration while walking near the Third ward school in North avenue, Allegheny, yesterday afternoon. He was taken to the Allegheny General hospital, where he is expected to recover.

Henton McGregory, aged 30, of 1296 Carson street, was seized with an epileptic fit, brought on by the intense heat, while walking in Muriel street yesterday afternoon. He was taken home.

Fainted in Funeral Parade.

William Neimeier, an Allegheny policeman, was overcome with the heat yesterday afternoon while in the funeral procession of Officer Adam Heim. He left the line and was cared for at a drug store on Troy Hill. He was able to go on duty last night.

Mrs. J. L. Lennen, 34 years of age, was overcome by the heat at Sixth avenue and Smithfield street at 10 o'clock last night. Her husband was with her and took her to their home, 10 Lombard street, Allegheny, in a cab.

Jacob T. Weber, aged 32, of 39 Gilmore street, was overcome by heat exhaustion at 7:30 o'clock last night in Boehler's restaurant at 604 Wylie avenue. Weber, who is employed as a cook in the restaurant, was cooking a meal for a customer when he suddenly fell to the floor. He was taken in the ambulance to Passavant's hospital. It was stated at the hospital that he will recover.

Charles O'Connell, aged 30, of North avenue, Millvale, was overcome by the heat yesterday afternoon and fell unconscious on the bridge over Girty's run on Lincoln avenue. He was taken home.

Heat Closes a Plant.

For the first time in its history the W. Dewees Wood mill of the American Sheet Steel Company at McKeesport was closed yesterday on account of the excessive heat. When the first turn went on the men found the heat almost unbearable, and the bosses conferred with the management over the situation. The result was a decision to close the mill for a week or 10 days. The exact length of the shutdown will depend upon the ability of the company to fill orders from finished stock now on hand.

In the lower districts of McKeesport there was much suffering from the heat. Scores sought relief on the roofs of their houses and many spent the night on the housetops. Several prostrations were reported, but none was serious.

Three little fellows, suffering from the heat, went in swimming at Lock No. 1 Saturday evening. They were arrested and fined $1 apiece yesterday morning.

YOUTH MEETS HIS DEATH WHILE SEEKING RELIEF

R. Burris Dodds Is Killed While Riding on Open Car in Allegheny Yesterday.

R. Burris Dodds, aged 18, of 1907 Irwin avenue, Allegheny, died at 8 o'clock last night at the Allegheny General hospital of injuries received by being struck by traction car 1722 on the Perrysville avenue division about 6 o'clock last evening. Dodds left his home during the afternoon to take a car ride out Perrysville avenue in the hope of getting relief from the heat. While returning home he boarded an open car, which was crowded, and sat on the rail on the off side of the car, it is said. The car was running rapidly down the hill and Dodds was struck in the face by a car going in the opposite direction. It is thought he was leaning out of the car when he was injured.

The accident occurred in front of 3030 Perrysville avenue, Allegheny, where the youth was employed as a grocery clerk by David L. Heber. Dodds' skull was fractured and nearly all the bones in his face and his nose were crushed. He was a son of Robert Dodds, a machinist employed in the round house of the Pittsburgh, Ft. Wayne & Chicago railroad in Allegheny. Besides his parents he is survived by two brothers and a sister. He attended the Sandusky Street Covenanter church.

VERY SEVERE CRITICISM OF CATHOLIC DIVORCEE

The Daughters of the Faith Have Started a Campaign Against Remarriages.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 18.—The organization fostered by prominent women of the Roman Catholic church under the title "The Daughters of the Faith," which, because of its proposed radical position on the divorce question, attracted so much attention, is soon to issue a manual defining its purposes and the method it intends to pursue to accomplish them.

The author, Miss Eliza O'Brien Lummis, treats of questions of interest to those burdened with the preservation of the home and the faith in a manner that must attract attention, even if it fails to gain converts.

"Our own country, whose morality has not kept pace with its enlightenment," says the chapter on divorce, "has thrown off all restraint and allows divorce for the slightest cause and with almost unlimited frequency. Society is, in consequence, on the verge of moral ruin and nothing but the religious and social recognition of the horror of this crime can arrest the evil."

The women of the Roman church who remarry after being divorced are criticised unsparingly. The author says:

"The Catholic divorcee who remarries excommunicates herself. She enters into what she knows to be a sinful relationship and by that act openly sets at naught the teaching of the church. It is not the church that has cast her off, it is she herself that has broken the filial tie. The Catholic divorcee who remarries must be socially ostracized."

Miss Lummins went to Rome and had audience with the pope to whom she explained the purpose of her organization. She left the holy see with a brief from Pius X. approving of the Daughters of the Faith.

Cardinal Gibbons, Mgr. Falconio and Archbishop Farley have likewise given their official indorsement and benediction.

PEACE CONFERENCE LIKELY IN AUGUST

Russia and Japan Tentatively Decide to Have Three Plenipotentiaries.

PRESIDENT PROPOSES TRUCE

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Russia and Japan have tentatively decided each to appoint three plenipotentiaries to represent them in the Washington conference. M. Nelidoff, it is understood, has already accepted the chairmanship of the Russian mission, and is being consulted about the selection of his associates, but Washington has not yet heard whether Marquis Ito's health will permit him to come as the ranking Japanese plenipotentiary. The belief here is that Field Marshal Yamagata will be designated in Ito's place should the marquis be unable to accept. It is expected that the conference will convene here about the middle of August.

Pending the official announcement of the plenipotentiaries little progress toward the arrangement of an armistice is being attempted on either side. Japan will not take the initiative in requesting an armistice. It is improbable, however, that she would insist on Russia making the request. It is generally expected that when the missions have been announced the president will suggest to the belligerents the advisability of a limited truce and that this suggestion will be accepted. Instructions will then go to Linevitch and Oyama to sign the armistice.

Hitch Is Not Likely.

The whole question of an armistice has been informally discussed at the White House and the belief in diplomatic circles is that there will not be a hitch on this score. Japan prefers that the armistice should be signed in the field by the Russian and Japanese commanders, and there are indications that this will find approval in St. Petersburg.

General commendation is voiced in diplomatic circles of the president's tact in not communicating to Japan the suggestion from St. Petersburg for a reconsideration of the selection of Washington for the conference. The irrevocable opposition of Japan to any capital of Europe was a matter of common knowledge in Washington, and the transmission of any suggestion, it was realized, would only invite an emphatical refusal from Japan and possibly seriously menace the convening of the conference.

It was learned today that the issuance of the authoritative statement on the subject of the Russian embassy here late last night was based upon advices from St. Petersburg that the selection of Washington was to be officially announced, thus removing all doubt on that score. Both explanations, however, are unofficial, and in view of the Russian embassy's authoritative announcement the incident is regarded as closed.

Europe Does Not Understand.

Pessimistic reports from Europe about the Washington conference are not shared by the diplomats here. A European ambassador who has from the outset been in close touch said tonight:

"What Europe does not seem to realize is that in these negotiations the president has been dealing, not with the war party of Russia, but with Emperor Nicholas direct. There is a thorough understanding between the president and the emperor, the latter fully appreciating the motives which prompted the president's appeal for peace and sending in reply as responsive an answer as he felt Russia could afford to make. That Russia does not go into the conference pledged to peace is fully understood, but this does not mean that her plenipotentiaries will not come clothed with full powers to negotiate peace, provided Japanese terms be reasonable, or does it reflect in any way upon the sincerity with which Russia enters the conference."

ST. PETERSBURG, June 18.—In certain quarters here envy and jealousy of the United States are ill-concealed. The entire collapse of the negotiations was predicted yesterday and there was almost open exultation at what was declared to be "a rebuff to Roosevelt." Even in peace circles gloomy faces were drawn at the report that Russia would insist upon The Hague; but, thanks to the personal action of the emperor in declaring for Washington and to the well put representations of Ambassador Meyer, the threatened diplomatic mountain has decreased to a mole hill over which negotiations can now proceed rapidly.

The Gazeta, which is known as a mouthpiece of the foreign office, declares that nothing is yet known regarding Japanese terms. It intimates that Russia may not balk at an indemnity, significantly stating that international control of the Chinese Eastern railroad is possible as a means of insuring payment of an indemnity. It says that the plenipotentiaries will have special powers and may be authorized to conclude peace.

It was decided to appoint a committee to present the situation to the advisory board of the association and demand that something be done at once or the men would return to work.

President Shaffer and President-elect P. J. McArdle ignored the invitation of the puddlers to attend the meeting this afternoon.

SCENE OF THE SOUTH SIDE EXPLOSION

BABES IN THE WOODS ARE BOUND AND GAGGED

Mother of One of the Children Is Arrested After Escaping a Lynching.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

HALIFAX, N. S., June 18.—Bound and gagged, the body of May Ward, six years old, was found yesterday in the woods a mile from Digby. A quarter of a mile away was Elma Young, 18 months old, tied hand and foot and barely alive. The children are said to be cousins, and had been missing since Friday afternoon. Mrs. Mary Hope Young, mother of the baby and aunt of the elder child, has been arrested after she was saved from a mob that threatened to lynch her.

There is a deep mystery surrounding the affair, which is being investigated by the coroner tonight. Mrs. Young insisted that she believes a tramp entered the house, stole the children and tried to kill both. Mrs. Young has been housekeeper for three months for Kingsley Melonson. She says her husband was Fred Young, a lawyer of Boston, who died more than a year ago. Little May Ward's mother is dead and her aunt has cared for her since.

Melonson is a laborer, who occupies a small one-story house owned by Jacob Thibbitts. Several motives are suggested for the crime, one of which is that as money has been coming from some source in Boston for the benefit of the elder child it might be appropriated by others if the child was dead.

DYING BURGLAR SAYS HE RESTORED MONEY TO POOR

"Big Frank" McCoy Is Found in New York Street and Taken to the Bellevue Hospital.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 18.—Homeless and apparently in a dying condition, Frank McCoy, known as "Big Frank," an old-time bank burglar, was picked up in the street tonight and taken to Bellevue hospital.

McCoy was a partner of Jimmy Hope, who died here a few days ago, in the famous Manhattan bank robbery, and in that of the Beneficial Savings bank of Philadelphia, in 1872, when the burglars carried off $60,000.

McCoy said tonight at the hospital that he had made restitution of his share of the proceeds of the latter robbery on being appealed to by prominent Catholics, who represented that the depositors in the bank, which was a Catholic institution, were mostly very poor persons. He also declared he had never profited from the plunder of the Manhattan bank.

ACCIDENTS ON THE THAMES.

Boat Collides With Bridge and Another Develops List—One Person Is Drowned.

LONDON, June 18.—The Prince of Wales on Saturday inaugurated the new service of the London county council passenger steamboats on the Thames. Today there was a tremendous rush of passengers, attracted mainly by curiosity, and the boats were heavily laden. There were several accidents. One boat collided with a bridge and was so damaged that she was obliged to land her passengers. Another boat developed a serious list near Wapping, which nearly resulted in a calamity. The passengers were panic stricken and many jumped overboard, fearing that the boat was foundering. The cause of the list has not been explained.

A number of rowboats observing the plight of the steamboat put off to the rescue of the passengers, all of whom were landed except one, who was drowned. Fears are expressed that the new steamers are faulty in design, as in several cases the paddle boxes were noticed to be awash.

He served in a Virginia regiment during the civil war and on many occasions he boasted of having killed 23 federal soldiers at the battle of Manassas. He was one of the greatest rifle shots in Kentucky and often told of how he picked off the enemy while secreted in treetops during the war.

INSERTS A WEDGE BETWEEN NATIONS

German Diplomacy Checks the Growing Friendship Between France and England.

SITUATION AS TO MOROCCO

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

BERLIN, June 18.—The expression through a semi-official newspaper of Paris that Great Britain does not support France steadfastly in the Morocco dispute, pleases German observers, because that is precisely the view upon which the German foreign office presses France to participate in the international conference. Germany maintains that Great Britain offers no serious objection and has informed Germany that she will participate in the conference if France does.

Opinion here today is that German diplomacy has inserted a wedge between France and Great Britain and checked the growing friendship between them, by putting France in such a position that she made demands on this friendship, which Great Britain will not meet.

Dispatches from Prince von Radolin, the German ambassador at Paris, which were received last night, were forwarded during the night to the emperor at Hamburg, where he was on board the imperial yacht Hohenzollern preparatory to going to Heligoland.

PARIS, June 18.—The improvement in the Franco-German situation took a more definite turn today, as the semi-official version of yesterdays conference between Premier Rouvier and Prince Radolin, the German ambassador, became known. This version shows that the ambassador asked France to accept in principle the plan of an international conference, leaving the details to be adjusted later. Premier Rouvier answered that he desired at first to be advised upon Germany's object in securing the conference and the questions it would be called upon to consider.

As the result of instructions from Berlin, Prince von Radolin was able to respond to these inquiries and to give definite information regarding the German government's ideas upon the scope and limitations of the conference. More particularly was he able to relieve the conference plan from any appearance of being a menace to France or of being a preliminary step to override French prestige in Morocco. With these explanations, pour parlers will continue with a good prospect of resulting in a definite agreement. There is, however, a necessity for further exchange between the governments with a view of fully defining the extent of the conference.

Premier Rouvier also conferred at considerable length with Paul Cambon, the French ambassador to Great Britain, following the latter's conversations with Lord Lansdowne, the British foreign minister. These conversations showed that the British declination to participate in the conference had been entirely free from the belligerent tone ascribed to it. Moreover, Great Britain is resolved to adhere to article 9, of the declaration of April 8, which says: "The two governments agreed to lend each other diplomatic support for the execution of the clauses of this declaration."

Great Britain intends to loyally interpret this article, and according to the indications furnished by her, will assist France in settling Moroccan affairs. Therefore, if the conference takes place Great Britain will participate therein, with the proviso that the scope of the conference must first be clearly defined.

WOMAN SEARCHES FOR HUSBAND'S DEAD BODY

She Accuses the Police of Hiding the Corpse of a Murdered Man.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 18.—Mrs. Josephine Noble, who was recently acquitted by a jury of the charge of having murdered her husband, startled the police of the Fourth street station, Long Island City, at 4 o'clock this morning by walking into the station house in night attire and demanding her husband's body.

"Yes, this is the place," she said. "I have been here before. I remember they brought Payton here. Sergeant, do you know me?"

"Yes," replied the sergeant, "I know you."

"Then let me see the body of my husband. You have it here and I must see that it is buried."

Sergeant Miller did what he could to calm the woman. She walked up and down the room wringing her hands and imploring him to let her see the body. Miller tried to persuade her to return to her home, and sent Policeman McGill to No. 33 Vernon avenue, where Mrs. Noble lives, to get some one to take care of her. Before McGill returned Mrs. Noble decided to go home. A policeman was detailed to follow her and see that she arrived safely. The woman found Policeman McGill on her doorstep and accused him of hiding her husband's body. She finally gave up her quest and retired.

MAN'S DREAM MAY CAUSE ARREST OF A MURDERER

Comfort Smith Sees Constable Edward Fenner Killed—The Description Fits Suspect.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

TROY, June 18.—A dream by Comfort Smith of Columbia Cross Roads may play a part in the capture of the murderer of Constable Edward Fenner, who was killed during a pistol battle with supposed robbers early yesterday morning.

Mr. Smith came to town yesterday afternoon and before learning of the murder related how in a dream the night previous he had seen Ed Fenner fighting a pistol duel in the moonlight, and that one one of the three men with whom he was fighting was wounded. The description of one of the men is almost identical with that of a resident of an adjoining township, whom the officers suspected previous to hearing Smith's dream for the reason that this man threatened to get even with Fenner because of an arrest.

Another interesting development is the fact that Mrs. Mary Stewart, residing on the edge of town, was awakened about 3 o'clock yesterday morning when she heard the groaning of a man and the hurried passage of two others, who appeared to be leading or carrying the one who was groaning. In his dream Smith saw one of the men shot in the arm.

The authorities have offered a reward of $1,000 for the capture of Fenner's murderer.

TRAIL OF BLOOD FOLLOWS RIOTS

One Man Shot and Three Are Stabbed In "Sunny Italy's" Sunday Record.

VICTIMS EXPECTED TO DIE

An ill star shone on the local Italian colony yesterday. Fights were numerous, the victims being one man shot and three seriously stabbed. All are expected to die. A riot in Chartiers township may end in murder and the search for the assailants led Police Inspector Thomas B. Werner and his officers a thrilling midnight chase. The wounded men are:

THE VICTIMS.

SAMUEL PORTICINI, aged 41, stabbed in riot near Sheraden; at the South Side hospital and may not recover; came to this country only two days ago, leaving left his wife and five children in Italy.

DOMINICK PEPERA, stabbed in the chest in a fight at a Noblestown boarding house; at the West Penn hospital and may not recover.

NICHOLAS BOSCIA, aged 41, stabbed by a stiletto in the hands of a fellow-countryman in a boarding house at No. 29 Lenora street, where he attempted to act the part of peacemaker; is seriously hurt.

JOSEPH BLANCO, shot in the groin in a fight at Beading station on the Pittsburgh, Chartiers & Youghiogheny railroad; his wound is likely to prove fatal; James Bernassi, his alleged assailant, has been committed to jail.

May Mean Four Murders.

All the men were reported last night to be in a serious condition, and in this case it would mean four murders added to Allegheny's already long list in one day, and all of the same nationality. The battle in Chartiers township caused intense excitement among the residents of Elliott and Sheraden, and when the blood-soaked form of Porticini was placed on a stretcher and driven to the South Side hospital, rumors of murder were rife. Inspector Werner with Special Officer Leyshon Williams and Detective Barney Harkins started with Bartholomew Porticini, a brother of the wounded man, to round up his assailants.

They followed paths through the woods and finally came upon the house of Pasqualia Spade, who was under suspicion with having done the cutting. The house was surrounded and Spade's 14-year-old son, Nicholas, was found on watch. The other members of the family and a roomful of boarders were stretched out in a sleeping room.

Speakeasy Patrons Participate.

Shrill screams of a woman, the crying of children and a jabbering of voices greeted the officers as they entered the house. In the boy's pocket was found a 38-caliber revolver. Inspector Werner struck a match and held it to the face of Spade.

"He stabbed my brother," shouted Bartholomew Porticini.

Spade and his son, with Peter Catal, a boarder, were arrested and locked up in the West End police station to await the result of Porticini's injuries. During the fight 30 Italians from a speakeasy in the neighborhood took part and an 8-year-old daughter of Spade was seriously cut on the head by a lump of coal which had been thrown through the window of the house.

While attempting to separate two men who were fighting in front of his boarding house at 29 Lenora street at 10 o'clock last night Nicholas Boscia was stabbed under the left shoulder blade, it is alleged, by Salvadore Varra of 138 Winslow street, who escaped. Varra and another man who's name could not be learned engaged in a fight in the alley leading to Boscia's house. Boscia urged them to stop and leave the place and the two went to the street in front of the house where the quarrel was renewed. Boscia ran out and attempted to separate the men when, it is alleged, Varra struck him with a stiletto.

Result of a Feud.

Joseph Blanco, the Beadling victim, it is alleged, had been at feud with some of his neighbors for several days and they took advantage of a little leisure time to settle their differences. Several shots were fired and a bullet lodged in Blanco's groin. Bernassi, who is charged with having done the shooting, was arrested by County Detective R. L. McMillen.

Murder may be the result of a midnight battle in an Italian boarding house near Noblestown. Dominick Pepera is in the West Penn hospital with two stiletto wounds in his left side, and it is feared they have punctured his lungs. In addition he has a number of bruises. Salvador Pask, who is said to have stabbed Lepera, and "Jim" Plevske, charged with being an accessory, are in jail.

DECLARES FOR DIRECT VOTE

Postmaster Francies Tells Why He Favors Crawford County System.

TIME FOR A CHANGE

Believes People Have Sufficient Intelligence to Select Candidates.

SAYS DAY OF BOSSES IS PAST

In his usual vigorous and straightforward manner, Postmaster John Francies of Allegheny has declared in favor of the Crawford county system. While he is handling the mail for the North Side, he has not buried himself and takes a lively interest in public affairs.

Mr. Francies has read the Magee Republican rules and believes the party would be wise to adopt their principal provisions. He is strongly in favor of making nominations by a direct vote of the party members and is confident the time for the adoption of this system is ripe. There are many Republicans in the county that share in this opinion.

The Magee rules will come up for consideration before the joint rule-making body of the Republican party on Friday afternoon. Before that time there will be a great deal of discussion of the proposed primary election regulations.

No Apparent Opposition.

So far no one has appeared openly against the adoption of the Crawford county system. It is probable there will be some opposition, but it may decide to do its work in secret. There has been some slight evidence that opponents are quietly laboring to prevent the adoption of any rules which will wipe out the delegate system.

In discussing the proposition to throw out the delegate system and make the Republican nominations in the county by a direct vote, Mr. Francies had this to say of political conditions as he sees them:

"While at the present time I am busily engaged striving to give the people of Allegheny improved service in their postoffice, I have not for a single moment lost interest in what is transpiring in public affairs. As a Republican I am deeply concerned about the proposed changes in the rules of the party. I am strongly in favor of making nominations by a direct vote.

Days of Bossism Gone By.

"The man who thinks the people are satisfied when the bosses save them the trouble of naming a ticket has a mighty mean opinion of the voters' intelligence. The people are not made for political parties; political parties are made by the people.

"The alleged politician, who thinks he can still control the public by waiving a party flag and compel it to take an unpalatable dose, simply because the dose is wrapped in party paper, is lacking in judgment.

"The days are gone by when a few men can set themselves up as reigning by divine right. The American citizen disproved that fallacy long ago. If the people have enough intelligence to elect delegates to nominate their candidates, they certainly have sufficient intelligence to nominate their candidates. It is not difficult to comprehend why a few politicians would favor the delegate system. It is because they can handle the few with greater ease than they can influence the will of the many.

Voters Will Control Party.

"From now on the voters are going to have their own way, either through parties or over parties, and the man who thinks that he can prevent them by simply gaining control of the party machinery is monkeying with the buzz saw.

"Any alleged leaders who are opposed to the Crawford county or direct vote system of nominating have arrived at the getting off place and the sooner they get off the less distance they will have to walk back.

"The days of civic reform are not coming, but are here and are here to stay. The people have awakened to a full realization that public business is their business. The day of leaders is here, the day of bosses is past. When this fact is accepted, the atmosphere will be cleared and the benefits accruing will be unlimited. We have reached the time when all public business must be conducted on business principles and there can be no sane reasons given why such should not be the case. That man who would be successful in politics must follow the advice of the railroad sign, 'stop, look and listen,' otherwise he will surely be bumped."

LAY OFFICER TO REST.

Remains of Policeman Adam Hein Who Was Accidentally Killed, Are Buried With Honors.

When the remains of Adam Hein, the popular Allegheny policeman who was killed by the accidental discharge of a revolver in the hands of a friend last Thursday afternoon, were taken to St. Mary's Catholic church, Liberty and Nelson streets, Allegheny, the streets from the officer's late home to the church doors were crowded with people. The blessing services were held at 1:30 p. m. in St. Mary's church by the Rev. Father Anslem. During the services the church was crowded to overflowing and many people were unable to get inside.

The funeral was one of the largest ever seen on the North Side. The remains were escorted from the officer's late home by 80 uniformed members of the Allegheny bureau of police under Capt. James Agnew, and the detail acted as a guard of honor to St. Mary's cemetery, where the remains were interred.

Acting Captain Adam Neumer, Lieut. John Bopp and Officers Samuel Stratton, Cyrus Coulter, George Schmeder and William Cochrane acted as pallbearers. Members of the German Beneficial union, district 23, of Allegheny; the Madison Square club and many friends of the dead officer attended the funeral.

FIND BOY IN SHACKLES.

Unable to Keep His Son at Home Father Chains Him in Back Yard.

The people along Pius street, on the South Side, were excited yesterday by the sight of a boy chained in the back yard at No. 144, on that street. He was Harry Michalski, the 10-year-old son of Stanly Michalski, who lives at that number. All day long crowds gathered and watched the little fellow. Word reached the police in the evening and Lieut. A. J. Ault went up to investigate.

He found the boy shackled with a dog chain, held in place by two padlocks. The boy could move about, but could not go very far. Lieut. Ault had the boy released and arrested the father, placing him in No. 7 police station. Michalski said he had chained the boy up because he would not stay at home. Saturday night he was missing and was found sleeping in a neighboring cellar. He said it was not the first time the chain had been used for this purpose. A charge of cruelty to minors was placed against Michalski.

Razor Plays Important Part.

The men live in Jones avenue. Yesterday afternoon they went up to the Grant boulevard, and there the cutting took place. Jones refuses to talk.

HE CLAIMS VOTES OF REPUBLICANS

Bigelow Says There Will Be No Opposition to the Hump Ordinance Tonight.

FEARS TRACTION COMPANY

"We will get more than enough votes to suspend the rules to pass the hump ordinance in common council tomorrow night. I don't think there will be any opposition," said Director Bigelow last night in giving his idea on how the lower branch of councils stands on this measure. Director Bigelow claimed quite a number of Republican votes.

"We will get Dr. Barr of the Eighteenth ward, Kohne of the Twenty-third, Semmelrock of the Twenty-sixth, McKnight of the Fourteenth and probably the other three members from the Fourteenth ward," continued the director. All of these members he mentioned are Republicans.

"On the Citizens side we will get every member except possibly Rapp of the Thirty-fifth ward. You can't tell much about him. He is mad because we have not bought the South Side water plant, and stays away from council meetings occasionally."

Director Bigelow said he intended to be present tonight at the meeting of common council to make sure that the hump ordinance goes through without a hitch. He said he might make some remarks if called upon.

Must Pay Double Price.

The director admitted a strong sentiment existed on the South Side against the hump because of the failure to purchase the plant of the Monongahela Water Company.

"No man can buy that plant now," said he. "I have been working at it for some time, but the people who own the stock won't give it up, and you can't take it away from them before 1907 by condemnation proceedings.

"I believe the city could duplicate the plant at one-half what it will have to pay for it. The appraisers, when they come to set a price on the plant, will value it at its earning power, instead of the actual value of the plant. The stock sells now at about $40 a share, but there is little or no stock on the market."

The director said the Pittsburgh Railways Company was responsible for the defeat of the hump proposition last year, and intimated the company might repeat the performance this year.

"Last year the officers of the Pittsburgh Railways Company assured me they were in favor of the hump cut and orders were given to the men to vote for it. Then I heard something peculiar and I found that on election day the former orders were countermanded and the employes of the company instructed to vote for filtration and against the hump. There are probably 3,000 or 4,000 employes of the company who can vote."

Doubts Traction Company.

"This year the Pittsburgh Railways Company is in favor of the removal of the hump, is it not, director?"

"You can't tell. Last year it signed papers to that effect, but as I have told you, a change was made on election day and orders issued to defeat the hump. I never learned, however, who issued the last orders, but we discovered that in all parts of the city the street car men were voting against it."

Director Bigelow says he does not intend to take a vacation until after the hump election on July 25. About August 1 he may go to the mountains for a month, taking weekly trips to Pittsburgh for a day to attend to urgent business. The rules of councils provide that both branches shall take a vacation during the months of July and August, but they are likely to have considerable work to do this summer by reason of the hump project.

Lucas, both of whose legs had been cut off, was already dead. One of Ashbaugh's legs was cut off, but he was still alive, though unconscious. He was brought to the West Penn hospital, where he died during the afternoon. Lucas was 50 years old and Ashbaugh 30. Both lived in Leechburg. It is not known what train struck them.

A. E. Morrison of Verona, was killed by a train on the Pittsburgh & Western railroad at Etna yesterday afternoon.

Charles Gabhart, aged 14, was shot by his brother, Louis, aged 16, yesterday morning at their home, 4012 Mifflin street. Louis fired a 22-calibre rifle standing in the doorway and the ball took effect in the calf of the left leg of the younger brother, who had retreated from the house.

The wounded boy was carried into the house to have his wound dressed and the elder brother fled when he saw the effect of his shot.

Police Say Loafing on East End Streets Must Be Stopped.

Ithmore Inweller, proprietor of the poolroom raided Saturday night by Inspector McAvoy and officers, was yesterday fined $30 and costs by Magistrate Negley on a charge of keeping a disorderly house. The other 13 prisoners arrested in the raid were discharged with a reprimand.

Inspector McAvoy stated that this was but the beginning of a crusade against loafers who frequent several places in the East End. Many complaints have been received that women have been insulted while passing these places.

MANY VICTIMS FALL INTO NET

Alleged Disorderly Houses the Special Prey of Officers During Sunday Raids.

ALLEGHENY IS CLEANING UP

Allegheny city is having a house-cleaning spasm. Incidentally one of the victims is a commonwealth graft witness, Clara Livingston of 214 East Robinson street. Police raided her house at 1:25 o'clock yesterday morning and arrested Clara, three girls and five men. At the hearing, a few hours later, the woman was fined $50, the girls $25 each and the men $5 each. The policemen testified the house was a bad one and that the inmates stood in the street and pulled men into the place.

At 3:30 a. m. Mollie Jackson's negro resort, at 510 Kilbuck street, was visited and Mollie, three girls and six men, all black, were arrested. Jackson was fined $25 and the girls and men $5 each. The police say the prisoners were drunk and fighting and that dishes and bottles were scattered all over the place when the raid was made.

The house of Sarah Barrett in Dilworth alley, near Rebecca street, Allegheny, was raided last night by Special Officers Charles C. Justice and George McCombs. The officers arrested the Barrett woman and two men visitors were locked up in Central police station. About 15 empty beer cases were found in the house.

Five members of the county detective force formed themselves into a boarding party yesterday afternoon and captured three prisoners. These men, Nick Long, William Quigg and Fred Uhlig, are now in jail charged with illegal liquor selling in a shanty boat on the south shore of the Ohio river, opposite Sewickley. It was on complaints of residents of Sewickley that the raid was made.

A crap game was interrupted at 3 o'clock yesterday morning by the Sewickley police at a resort in "The Acre," a colored settlement in that borough. Joe Kidd, Lucien Miner and William Wainwright, all colored, were arrested and received hearings before Justice Johnson, who imposed fines of $5 and costs.

Pittsburgh police were also unwelcome callers at resorts. Mamie Hill of 1319 Colwell street was fined $100 yesterday morning, four of her girls were fined $25 and 15 men $5 each.

Alice Maynard's alleged speakeasy, 208 Craig street, was raided and the woman and 10 men arrested.

George Powell's alleged disorderly house, 25 Our alley, was raided. Powell, five other men and three women were captured.

LAKE FREIGHT STEAMER SINKS IN A COLLISION

Crew Manages to Reach Deck and Escape—Other Vessel Is Not Seriously Damaged.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

SAULT STE. MARIE, MICH., June 18.—During a thick fog which prevailed on the Upper Lakes for a week, the steel freight steamers Etruria and Amasa Stone collided today 10 miles off Presque Isle light in Lake Huron. The Etruria was damaged so that she sank within a few minutes, the crew narrowly escaping with their lives. The Etruria was struck on the starboard side abreast of the No. 9 hatch. Many of the crew were asleep in their berths, but were awakened by the crash and reached the deck in time to escape. The Amasa Stone was bound down from Duluth to Lake Erie with a cargo of iron ore, and the Etruria was taking a cargo of soft coal from Toledo to Lake Superior.

The lost steamer, which was commanded by Capt. John Green of Buffalo, registered 4,653 tons, and it was built at Bay City, in 1902. She was owned by the Hawgoods of Cleveland, and was valued at $240,000.

The Amasa Stone, which escaped any serious damage in the collision, is a steel steamer of 6,282 tons and went into commission this spring. She is valued at $350,000.

PALESTINE IS BEST FOR JEWISH COLONIZATION

Federation of American Zionists So Decides—Pledged to the Basle Program.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, June 18.—The eighth annual convention of the Federation of American Zionists, which began its sessions today, decided that Palestine was the best place for the colonization of the Jews. The convention adopted a resolution that the International Zionist congress to be held at Basle, Switzerland, this summer, be asked to reaffirm the Basle program of 1897, the convention of American Zionists pledging itself to the Basle program in its entirety.

There are 250 delegates attending the convention. The first session was held in the forenoon at which Dr. Harry Friedenwald of Baltimore read his annual report. The report of the secretary, Dr. J. L. Magnes of this city, showed 237 Zionist societies in this country.

Letters of greeting from prominent Zionists in different parts of the world were read. The greater part of the afternoon session was taken up by the discussion of the resolution for the reaffirmation of the Basle program.

ISELIN IS ILL.

Yachtman Breaks Down, Due Probably to Newspaper Criticism.

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., June 18.—(Special.)—C. Oliver Iselin, the yachtsman, is ill at his home at All View on Premium Point, New Rochelle, and is under the care of a specialist and nurses. He is said to be suffering from a nervous breakdown. According to some of his friends the yachtsman has never quite got over the way some of the newspapers criticised him when he sailed the second race against Sir Thomas Lipton's boat Shamrock II. Although subsequent events proved that Mr. Iselin knew what he was doing in the selection of Capt. Charles Barr and his crew to sail the race, his friends say that he felt very keenly about the way the newspapers talked about him, although he pretended to pay no attention to the articles at the time.

The recent death of his father, Adrian Iselin, the banker, it is said, has aggravated his condition. At Mr. Iselin's home the statement was given out today that the yachtsman was living very quietly under the doctor's care. It is reported that as soon as he becomes strong enough to make the trip the yachtsman will go to Germany to take the baths.

He was arrested at 8:30 at the foot of Seventeenth street by John Hanzel, night watchman for the Sharpsburg Sand Company, after he had knocked the watchman down. Hanzel claims he caught the boy, with three others who escaped, stealing brass valves from the sand company's shantyboat.

PULLS HIS REVOLVER AND DEFIES OFFICERS

Sharpsburg Italian Objects to Daughter's Suitor and Creates Merry Disturbance.

Frank Bucciero, an Italian grocer of 1117 Main street, Sharpsburg, created excitement in that borough last night and a possible tragedy was narrowly averted. Bucciero objected to attentions paid by Charles Ross, an Italian barber, to his daughter, a handsome girl of 15. The girl left home early last evening and sent a note by a boy to Ross asking him to meet her at Sixteenth street. The note fell into the hands of her father, who went to the place appointed. The girl saw him coming and ran, but he caught her at Eighteenth street and dragged her home. A crowd collected around Bucciero's store, where, it is said, he began kicking and beating the girl. Louis Lucca, a neighbor, interceded and the girl ran from the store. The father secured a revolver and started in pursuit, declaring his intention of killing her.

Word was sent to the police station and Officers William Muckle and George Aschman overtook the man in Main street. Bucciero drew his revolver and threatened to shoot if the policemen touched him. They cornered him in a doorway, where he leveled his revolver at Muckle and again threatened to shoot.

Each of the officers covered the Italian with a revolver and the two closed in on him. They subdued him after a fight and obtained his revolver, which contained five 38-caliber bullets. On the way to the lockup Bucciero fought desperately in his efforts to break away. Hundreds who were on their way from church watched the struggle. Bucciero was finally landed in the lockup and will receive a hearing this morning before Justice of the Peace F. W. Schrandt.

REMODELED BAPTIST CHURCH IS DEDICATED

Special Services at New Castle—Catholic Congregation at Kittanning Opens a New Structure.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

NEW CASTLE, June 18.—The First Baptist church was dedicated today, special services being held in the morning, afternoon and evening. The church was erected 15 years ago at a cost of $25,000 and the remodeling just completed cost $35,000 additional, and made it the largest church of the city with a seating capacity of 1,300. The dedicatory sermon was delivered at 10:30 o'clock by the Rev. George B. Ross, pastor of the New Tabernacle Baptist church of Philadelphia. A fraternal service was held this afternoon in charge of the pastor. Addresses were made by the Rev. Dr. H. S. Jordan, the Rev. Dr. Charles W. Poulke, the Rev. T. W. John, the Rev. Mr. Sallie of the negro Baptist church, the Rev. Francis Riddle, the Rev. J. Harper Hutchman, the Rev. Dr. Rees and the Rev. J. G. A. Borland. This evening the Rev. Dr. Rees again preached. The Rev. Henry Madtes of Monessen, who was pastor here 15 years ago when the church was built, and the Rev. N. R. Sloan of Beaver Falls, were present at all the services and also made addresses. Over $9,000 was raised at this morning's meeting and $1,000 at this afternoon's meeting, while about $5,000 was donated tonight toward the payment of the cost of the remodeling.

KITTANNING, June 18.—The Holy Trinity Catholic church of Ford City, of which the Rev. Father Rohorn is rector, was dedicated today. Bishop Canevin of Pittsburgh, officiated. The Rev. B. Bauldauf of St. Mary's church of Ford City, celebrated solemn high mass and was assisted by the Rev. L. A. Carroll of St. Mary's church of Kittanning, and the rector of the Polish Catholic church of Ford City. Special trains brought large delegations from Tarentum, Natrona, New Kensington and other places. A parade with 1,500 men and 10 brass bands marched through the principal streets. The church cost $25,000.

TITUSVILLE, June 18.—The cornerstone of the Swedish Congregational church was laid this afternoon. The principal speaker was the Rev. Frank Nelson of Warren. He was assisted by local ministers. The new church is being built at Franklin and Union streets.

ENGLAND ASKS REPARATION.

Russia Promises to Investigate the Sinking of British Ship by Czar's War Vessel.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 18. — Sir Charles Hardinge, the British ambassador, has brought the case of the British steamer St. Kilda, which was sunk by the Russian auxiliary cruiser Dneiper, June 5, in the China sea, before Foreign Minister Lamsdorff, asking that reparation be made and that steps be taken to prevent the recurrence of such actions by Russian warships.

Count Lamsdorff replied that Russia's previous assurances still held good and that this probably was an isolated case, due to the present disorganization of the Russian naval forces in far eastern waters. An investigation will be made.

AUTO PEOPLE PROTEST.

LENOX, MASS., June 18.—(Special.)—A joint meeting of the selectmen of Lenox, Stockbridge, West Stockbridge, and Richmond is to be held tomorrow afternoon to determine whether it is wise to grant the request of a number of prominent cottagers and close certain highways to automobiles. Were well related last Saturday—something unusual being our news of Saturday morning given over entirely to the features of today.

We do not purpose to take up the matter again in detail this morning, simply want to say to habitual economists that very many of the departments will be on the firing line today with

New Goods for Phenomenal Underprices

This is true especially of yardage goods—woolen fabrics, silk fabrics, cotton fabrics, together with household linens.

Ready-made garments will also be offered for prices that have been brought down to the lowest point, and not only ready-made garments but many requisites for the house.

One very especial event in the interests of women is our important half price sale (in some cases much less than half prices) of women's Summer Suits—suits of all-wool materials, handsome dresses of silk. It is doubtful if such another occasion is advanced this season in which women's fashionable dresses will be sold for such unworthy prices, looking at the matter from the standpoint of quality and fashion.

Another important issue of the day—important to people who keep house—is the beginning of our ten-day sale of fine furniture for prices that have been reduced to an average half. This furniture is sacrificed because we are now in the midst of enlarging our furniture department to more than double its size and we desire to clear out all furniture preparatory to installing complete new lines.

A Late News Item—Women's Woven Underwear One-Third and One-Half Less Regular Prices.

These goods arrived late Saturday evening or you may be sure they would have had a featured position in our large bulletins of Saturday.

The collection consists of mid-Summer weight union suits, vests, drawers and corset covers, of such fabrics as silk, silk mixtures, lisle, cotton, light weight wool, of both foreign and domestic manufacture.

The price per garment will be 15c, 25c, 35c, 50c, 75c, $1.00, $1.25—which, according to the grade, represents either one-half or one-third less what the garment sells for regularly.

Monday, June 19, 1905.

Yesterday the New York Central started its 18-hour trains between New York and Chicago. They made some marvelous time, comparable to the brilliant runs on the Pennsylvania a week ago. The patronage of these trains at a large extra fare proves the public wants the speed and if there are unpleasant results the public should share the responsibility.

A fusion movement has been started in Beaver county in the interest of the Democracy. There is apparently nothing in it that should appeal to Republican voters. It includes a few Republicans whose ambitions have not been satisfied, but is mainly engineered by Democrats who have no other hope of success. There is no genuine principle involved. It had better be shunned.

Russia has finally agreed to Washington as the scene of peace negotiations, upon direction of the czar. It is well. The armies in Manchuria are obviously ready for another bloody engagement and unless an armistice is quickly negotiated, Gen. Linevitch will regret to report as he takes the road to Harbin. Japan is master of the situation and Russian grumbling does no good.

Judge Anglin of Toronto has decided that American laborers in Canada cannot be deported. The case on trial was that of two employes of the Pere Marquette railroad, alleged to be in the Dominion contrary to the terms of the alien labor act. Judge Anglin not only dismissed the case, but declared in his opinion the alien labor law is not worth the paper on which it is printed. Canada has no power to deport alien laborers.

Gifford Pinchot, forester, has issued a statement covering the regulations of the national forest preserves and their object. These reservations have been acquired and are managed for the benefit of the people. Revenues derived from them are used exclusively for their protection and extension, none going to the government general fund. In time the people will come to understand the beneficence of the public forestry system and then it will be supported as it should be.

Another reduction in the price of Kansas oil, which brings the highest grade crude down to 50 cents a barrel, is proof enough the legislative agitation has not bettered the condition of the Kansas producer. The trouble has been too much oil and not too little law. Prices cannot be put up by act of legislature, or state refineries, and Kansas has wasted its energies. This opinion was expressed by The Gazette representative who visited the field early in March, and events have verified his every conclusion.

Stories continue to come from Panama and from persons who have returned from the isthmus, indicating that all is not lovely on the canal strip. These things were to be expected. Americans are not likely to wholly enjoy the tropics in summer. They are apt to become frightened at the appearance of tropical diseases even when the death rate is less than that from typhoid in our temperate latitudes. Yet the canal will be dug. American sanitary science will improve conditions and the work will go on with increasing vigor.

Our Democratic contemporary, the Post, couples the West Virginia tax decision with the New York corporate property decision and calls it a new era of taxation. Then it takes occasion to hurl a shaft of abuse at Pennsylvania. As a matter of fact the West Virginia decision puts that state on precisely the plane reached by Pennsylvania many years ago. Oil and coal operators in this state pay their full share of taxes—in fact a little more. Pennsylvania led the states of the Union in exacting taxes from the corporations sufficient to maintain the state government, and which now give millions to the schools and to charities. The New York law taxing franchises as property was recommended to the legislature by Gov. Roosevelt, now president, and was based on the decision of the United States supreme court in the case of the Monongahela Navigation company. The Post should wake up and find out that Pennsylvania is close to the front of the procession.

New Party Rules.

While expressions in general approve the new rules proposed for the Republican county primaries, some objection to the Crawford county system is heard from the rural districts, where it is not as easy to get out the full vote as in the cities. This objection may easily be removed by a modification that will give each district the full Republican vote cast at the last preceding election for president. The present delegate system is based on the presidential vote and there is no reason why each district should not continue to have credit for that vote proportioned on the actual vote polled. There is also contention for the present rule governing the personnel of primary election boards and this may be conceded.

For the remainder the proposed rules are in line with progressive modern sentiment. The delegate system has outlived its full usefulness. At one time it was a practical necessity. Even the conferee system was essential years ago, but modern conditions have rendered both unnecessary and, in some degree, obnoxious. There has been a loud demand in all parts of the state during the past few years for reform in primary elections. This demand, as far as Allegheny county is concerned, is quite fully met in the new rules.

The After War Trade.

Preparations are being made everywhere for the trade that is expected to follow the ending of the war in the far east. Naturally Japan and Russia must make considerable expenditures to repair the war damages, and China, too, will be in the market to some extent. Some disappointment may be met by those who are counting on Japanese purchases, for the Japanese are a resourceful people, capable of repairing much of the damage they have suffered without outside assistance. They will want American railroad materials, however.

In Russia the case is different. Russia will need to buy much. In order to obtain money it may be driven to grant many concessions to foreigners for the development of its vast latent resources. Under a constitution foreign capital will gladly enter Russia. If foreign capital goes into Russia it will carry with it enormous quantities of material from foreign markets. It is not a hazardous prediction that the end of this war will be the beginning of a new Russia, which will be one of the world's best markets.

America is in a position to profit greatly from such a development. The American people are fresh from the conquest of a continent rich in all the material resources of modern civilization. American inventors have designed and American manufacturers are making the tools and machinery essential to such conquest. They are ready to supply Russia, as no one else is, and they should be ready to embrace the golden opportunity. Russia will be all the better for an influx of Americanism.

Maximo Gomez, Patriot.

There would be material for a Wendell Phillips to idealize in the life of Maximo Gomez, the Cuban patriot, whose career was in some respects more notable than that of Toussant L'Ouverture, whom the great orator eulogized as an emancipator. Gomez lived to see success reward the revolutions which he led. When he died last week he was universally esteemd in the republic of Cuba, which he helped to launch as a nation. Although he first fought in the Spanish army and opposed his own people in Santo Domingo when they struggled for freedom, he joined the revolutionists when his eyes were opened to the cruelties practiced by Spanish military despots.

Gomez cannot be considered a mercenary fighter, although it was the love of adventure as well as an ardent patriotism that kept his sword unsheathed. He invaded Cuba in a revolt against Spain 40 years ago, but when defeated he retired to his Santo Domingo estate. Another opportunity came 30 years later and for years he harassed the Spaniards by his guerrilla warfare. When the United States intervened and banished the Spaniard, Gomez found himself at the head of a straggling army, which not only demanded credit for the successful issue, but also large mercenary reward. When Gomez, as emissary for the army consented to accept about one-twentieth what the old fighters asked for, he was promptly deposed by the assembly, but soon reinstated by his generals. He was ever a loyal supporter of United States authority during the period of reconstruction and rendered much assistance.

Appeal for Geronimo.

Geronimo, the notorious Apache chief, has wearied of sitting for his photograph with a huge navy revolver across his knees and appeals to be returned to the remnant of his tribe in Arizona. His case is now before the interior department, which recently permitted him to leave Fort Sill and attend the Miller Bros. celebration at the 101 ranch near Guthrie. It is 20 years since Gen. Miles forced the surrender of Geronimo. Those familiar with the period of terror which the Apache caused in Arizona and the deception their leader practiced on Gen. Crook, to whom he pretended to surrender, are not likely to entertain sympathy for the crafty old chief.

Civilization has advanced in Arizona during 20 years and the power of the Indian has correspondingly waned, so if the chief returned today he would practically be a stranger in the territory. The Arizona Star, which was one of the first papers to demand the removal of marauders who had so long terrorized the territory, now asks that he be allowed to spend his last days in his former home. Age, the loss of followers and the transformation of the old hunting grounds into cultivated fields have destroyed the Indian's power to do harm and the United States can afford to deal generously with him.

W. J. Brennen's Relief.

During nearly two months past the Hon. William J. Brennen has carried the destinies of the Democratic party of Allegheny county under his individual hat. This trust was imposed upon Mr. Brennen by the Democratic county convention, which was not prepared to discharge the duty of naming candidates for office and delegated its powers to the able leader of many campaigns. Mr. Brennen was authorized to appoint a committee of four or more persons to share with him the responsibility of nominating a ticket and help carry the party burden whenever he grew weary of bearing it alone.

That Mr. Brennen was worthy of the trust and equal to the demand is shown in the event. For weeks he has carried the Democratic party without staggering. He has gone on with stoical courage, without a cry for help, doing his duty like an Atlas, but without acquiring an Atlas stoop in his shoulders. He has been the whole thing, with plenary powers and has never lost his winning smile or become inflated with a sense of his importance.

Contemplating what Mr. Brennen has done, one may imagine his relief now he has unloaded a share of the burden on other shoulders. The weight of the load, as Mr. Brennen felt it, may be judged by the character of those he selected as his assistants. Col. James M. Guffey, the "gusher prince," known of all men as the strong man of the state Democracy. John B. Larkin the "little giant," who lifts the entire city administration out of the ruts. James A. Clark, who has done much heavy committee work associated with County Commissioner Clark, Democratic City Chairman Clark, J. A. Clark and "Jim" Clark. And finally Henry Meyer, all around burden bearer, the man who carries Dutchtown in his pocket and carries on any hopeless campaign for which the Democracy cannot find another victim. Thus Mr. Brennen has restored his trust to the Democratic party unbroken, for what is there of the Democracy after these five are subtracted?

In this state of the case the Democracy is ready to fuse with the Citizens party, similarly represented by a committee, and put forth a ticket on a platform for popular rule with a vox populi, vox Dei attachment. Mr. Brennen is the people and "Denny" O'Neil the (idol of the) masses. Congratulations are in order—that is, congratulations to William James Brennen, who has performed his most heroic task, including his famous address to the chorus. He can say with the western hero: "I seen my duty and I done it," or with the Hon. George W. Guthrie's cowboy: "I have done my ——st and the angels can do no more."

Hot Weather Hints.

A recent report states that analysis of the milk sold in Pittsburgh proves that dealers have ceased to evade the law. One bad sample was found. This is, indeed, a fortunate condition at this season, the time when bad milk and infant mortality are inseparable. The "heated term," of about three months' duration in this latitude, is a time for the exercise of great care in the matter of food and drink. More than one-half the ills of this period may be traced to improper food or drink.

Every normal person craves drink and succulent vegetables during hot weather. If these are in a state of incipient fermentation, or are too cold, they are likely to cause serious derangements. Cool, pure water or milk are beneficial, very cold liquids are not. Sometimes a warm drink will have more effect in quenching thirst. Children are more liable to derangements of digestion—the hot weather diseases—than adults. A little care may save much worry and expense.

A fraud order has been issued against the fellows who advertise a nostrum that will turn the blackest skin white. A commitment would not be amiss in their case.

A boy was arrested the other day on charge of being a suspicious person because he was carrying a bushel of shelled corn. Regular diamond thief, you know.

If Washington is rather warm for the peace envoys, they may be comforted by remembering the 110 degrees in the shade in Manchuria last summer.

While the Pennsylvania and New York Central do the racing there is nothing to prevent other railroad men from enjoying the sport.

Kansas oil has been cut to an even 50 cents a barrel and the state refinery campaign looks like 20 cents less.

What the June graduate has yet to learn is how hard it is to do all the things he knows ought to be done.

Kaiser Wilhelm's trip to Heligoland will be less productive of trouble than his cruise to Morocco.

Philadelphia remains warmer than other parts of the country, regardless of isothermic lines.

A constitution in prospect is less attractive to the average Russian than a riot in hand.

Some people think President Roosevelt would be more comfortable at Oyster Bay.

William J. Brennen will hardly notice the heat after getting rid of his burden.

Postmaster John Francies of Allegheny has some vigorous opinions to express.

Pittsburgh is in good place again, whether or not it can stay there.

Much interest continues in Mr. Ryan's effort to sit on the Equitable lid.

Panama at this season bears little resemblance to the promised land.

It's a hot wind that blows nobody good these torrid days.

QUIET OBSERVATIONS

By ERASMUS WILSON.

Do you like the sort of June weather we are having?

You don't have to like it. Being a free agent you may growl and complain to your heart's content, even kick and swear and fume until you get many times hotter than the weather.

Many people fail to appreciate their great and glorious privileges. The weather growler is one of these. Were he denied this privilege of fuming and fretting when the temperature and other atmospheric conditions do not suit him, he would feel that he was a much abused man.

And well he might feel this, for when the temperature is high and the humidity excessive, most people must give vent to their feelings or smother; at least, they think they would smother. Some pretend that they thought they would die. Of course they didn't think anything of the sort. If they had they would have sent for the doctor and the preacher instead of saying what they did about the weather.

You may depend upon it when a fellow thinks he is about to die he doesn't resort to grumbling and complaining and faulting Providence for the few and transient comforts he has to endure.

* * *

If you don't like Pittsburgh weather go to Mercer and be happy.

It would be hard to find a greater contrast in conditions in such a short distance, and at such small expense of time and money.

Indeed, the contrast is such that one may fairly conclude that Mercer was made for those who cannot abide Pittsburgh weather, dirt and noise. There isn't a smokestack nor a trolley car within the borough limits, and the cars a long way off, as you will discover when you undertake to walk from the station to the court house.

And yet it isn't an unpleasant walk on sawed stone pavements with shade trees everywhere, and cosy houses on either side with comfortable looking occupants sizing you up as you pass.

When Mercer was laid out land must have been cheap, for the lots in the resident portion are one acre or more in extent.

Or it may have been that the people of those days thought that life was not worth living without a garden spot. And judging from the health features of the place they were right. Gardens are not only good for raising vegetables but for providing first-class exercise for the people. They also serve to keep the old and young out of mischief.

* * *

The principal drawback to living in a garden town is the fact that you have to maintain a garden, and that means real work, for you can't put up a bluff that will go, because the garden is there to show for itself. And being so conspicuous, not only your nearer neighbors see it, but all comers and goers can see for themselves whether you are industrious or not.

And then there are always a few prominent men who are ambitious to shine in the gardening line, for it tends to make them solid with the farmers. The farmer has a vote, you know, and he rarely fails to cast it on election day. Being early risers and hard workers farmers materially take to candidates who rise early and work hard. Nor are they satisfied to take their word for it, but insist on seeing their gardens or their fields.

You may recall ex-Judge Wallace's famous tomato patch in New Castle. People went miles and miles to the vines towering so high that even a tall man had to use a step ladder in order to reach the fine "beefsteaks" growing on the top branches.

If Bill Stritmaeter hadn't outstripped Neighbor Wallace the latter might be sitting on the bench today. But the thrifty merchant beat the wily judge, and there came defeat.

Thus you see that even gardening has some strenuous and far-reaching phases.

* * *

This being an off year in politics there are no evidences of rivalry among gardening politicians in Mercer. And yet there are some fine gardens. In fact, a weedy, ill-kept garden tends to lower the social status of a townsman. People will talk, you know, and wonder what the fellow is doing whose garden is neglected. If they don't know they will guess at it, and as a rule they guess something that is no credit to him.

The newspaper profession can point with pride to Editor Whistler's garden. He evidently knows how to make a good garden as well as how to make a good newspaper, for it is generally conceded that he has as good a garden as any in the town, and it is everywhere admitted that the Western Press is the best edited country paper published in the state, and has few rivals in any other state.

The Press is unique in that it runs largely to reminiscences, and the captain has a most happy faculty for this kind of work. Besides he is particularly well equipped for it, having been born in the town many long years ago. Being of the observant sort, and blessed with a good memory, he can recall the history of nearly every man and woman in the county.

And what is more to the point, he recalls incidents of the long past and associates this with the people, so that everybody is waiting and watching for the Press to see what the captain has to say. And those who have gone from Mercer to distant parts take the Press for the same purpose.

* * *

Mercer seems to have a corner on shade trees, and these are the real thing—sugar maple, elm, oak and other forest varieties instead of the quick-growing kinds found in man-made parks. Not a few of these trees have stood for more than a century, for Mercer is no spring chicken in point of age. And then, it grew beside the pike, when the Pittsburgh and Erie pike was a great thoroughfare.

Shade trees are not the only old thing to be found in the town. There are churches that were there when the oldest resident came. Among these may be found every brand and shade of Presbyterians, and all seem to be well supported, although its several temples are not filled at every service. Indeed, they do say that one of the more commodious edifices could shelter all of the separate flocks if they would, but they will not.

About all the leading denominations are represented by goodly meeting houses and thrifty memberships. Besides these there is a respectable contingent of outsiders. Whether this is the fault of the preachers, or due to the failure of the professed Christians to agree on essential doctrine, is a debatable question, and the people are debating it some.

This town being dry and abundantly supplied with churches and garden truck, it is a good and safe place to go when you get tired of the heat, smoke and hurly-burly of the city—good for you physically, morally and spiritually.

Breaking Her Word.

She—Would you believe it? When the bride came to the word "obey" in the wedding service she stuttered terribly.

TALKED OF IN GOTHAM

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 18.—That we live too fast is the verdict of physicians who have been startled by the enormous increase in the number of deaths from heart disease as shown by recent reports of the board of health. We are told it is business, the constant strain of the effort to get rich, that is weakening the heart and sending young men to sudden death almost before they are well started in the race for wealth. Women, too, are affected, possibly not by the effort to gain riches, but rather in the fast living that present day society demands. There are too many social obligations to be met, too many dinners to be eaten, too much of the indoor life and too few rides in the park.

And the physicians agree that it is worry more than work that is sending the hustling American business man to an early grave. Great battles are fought every day in the world of business, and one campaign is scarcely finished before another must be planned. It is the constant worry that results from the clash of wits that weakens the constitution and at last attacks the heart. Meals are eaten too hastily and indigestion follows, and in the wake of indigestion are many of the most painful of the ills that flesh is heir to.

Not All on Account of Work.

These same doctors—learned men all of them, no doubt—lay all the blame upon work, rather than the general results of city life. If the men of the city left their work at their offices, as the men of the farm leave theirs in the field, the result would not be so disastrous. But it is so hard for men to slow up when night comes after a nerve-racking day that they keep going at something till long after they should be in the land of dreams. There are indigestible dinners at home, at the club, or at any of the Broadway restaurants, and their systems are not in the right condition to simulate the rich food. The late dinners mean restless nights, and restless night leave the victims ill prepared to stand the strain of the coming business day. These are some of the things the doctors seem to forget to warn their patients against.

Evenings to Blame for Much.

What happens after business hours is to blame for much of the heart disease with which the city of New York is afflicted. It is difficult to convince most men—particularly the younger set—that the nights were made to sleep. After a hard campaign downtown, they will go to the theater, then join a party of friends at supper, and linger at table until the lights begin to appear in the east. Then they will catch a night hawk, sleep on the way home, and be in bed not more than four or five hours before it is time to rush for business. The result is that the concentration of their minds on the work of the day is doubly difficult, and although they do not notice it after an hour of work, they are worn out before the day's work is begun.

No Worse Than Other Cities.

The business pace in New York is no faster than in every other city of consequence in the land. In Pittsburgh, for instance, there are many men who could come to the metropolis and give the financiers pointers on the rapid accomplishment of work. But these Pittsburghers are hale and hearty and there is no heart disease concealed about them because they lead quieter and cleaner lives, go to bed at bedtime, and get up fresh and clear headed in the morning. The same could be said of the half a dozen other cities of the country where the chief aim of life is business, and the nights are recognized as the time for sleep and recuperation for the work of the following day.

It is the "Pace" That Kills.

Did you ever notice when visiting New York how few of the first-class restaurants and hotel dining-rooms afford clocks? Take a look around the next time you come this way, and you will discover that while the average New Yorker will close his business establishment at the exact moment each day, he takes no thought of time when out on pleasure bent. No man is expected to look at his watch while dining in pleasant company, or even if the company be not so pleasant. As long as the fun is going no one seems to care how fast time flies. The result is always late hours, for there is nothing quite so musical as popping of corks when the company is congenial.

Woman Physician on the Subject.

It is the after theater supper that is doing the work for the nerves of the women of New York. Discussing the subject of women's nerves, Dr. Anna Walford said the other day: "My experience, dealing as it does largely with women, has taught me that the women of New York, like their husbands, and brothers, work too strenuously and live at too fast a pace. In the struggle for social position women exert just as much energy as men do in business. They live too rapidly. It seems to be in the very blood of Americans to hurry and worry through life. The result is bound to tell upon their health. If only New Yorkers could do as the Europeans do—live slower—there would not be so many cases of heart disease."

Noise Has its Effect.

Then, too, there is the noise of the city streets to add to the burdens that New Yorkers have to bear. The rumble gets into the nerves, killing sleep, and leaving the victim without that refreshed feeling that comes to the sleepers in the land where the song of the cricket is the most disturbing of the noises of the night. And there is no place upon the whole island of Manhattan to which one may flee to escape the rumble and roar of the streets. It is continuous during the whole 24 hours, as it is nowhere else in the country. What, therefore, can one expect, when one insists upon living in "little old New York," but a nerve-racking existence that results a short run toward the opening of the Great Divide?

THE PEACE CENTER

The Treaty of Washington.

From the Louisville Courier Journal.

There has, as yet, been no treaty of pacification entered into at Washington, as with most of the capitals of Europe. It is a reasonable hope that with favorable results in this conference, the more formal negotiations will also be held in Washington, and that they will result in the full realization of the president's hopes. It would be an appropriate vindication of his good judgment and a fitting compliment to his pacific services, if it should be recorded in history that the way between Russia and Japan was settled by a treaty of Washington.

Great Questions Involved.

From the Baltimore Sun.

It is a fine compliment to this country that its capital should be chosen as the place at which the representatives of Russia and Japan will attempt to adjust differences which led to one of the bloodiest wars of modern times. Questions of the greatest importance are involved in the peace settlement—questions affecting not only the interests of the belligerents, but the whole world. The commerce of the far east, the relations of the United States and Europe with the orient are bound up in the peace settlement which must be made ultimately. Hence Americans have a definite and vital interest in the negotiations which will soon be opened in Washington.

Striking Tribute to Leadership.

From the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The world will acclaim the American capital as the proper place in which to conduct the peace negotiations, and this will suggest the tongue in which they are to be carried on. The Russo-Japanese treaty of 1905 will be a striking tribute to the United States' leadership in civilization and in the statesmanship which brings things to pass, and it will give a world vogue to the United States language in great transactions between nations.

Gratifying to Natural Pride.

From the Philadelphia Ledger.

By a natural process of elimination, Washington has been selected as the meeting place of the plenipotentiaries of Japan and Russia to discuss the terms of peace. It is gratifying to the national pride that our chief executive should have been the agency to bring about so momentous a gathering as the coming meeting promises to be.

Selected as a Compromise.

From the Chicago Tribune.

The Russo-Japanese peace conference is to be held at Washington. That is a most apt selection because of the part President Roosevelt has played in bringing the belligerents together and for other reasons as well. Russia wished the negotiations to be conducted in Europe and Japan wished them held in Asia. Neither would yield and they properly compromised on an intermediate and strictly neutral continent.

Recognition of Our Disposition.

From the Chicago Inter-Ocean.

We could not urge Russia and Japan to make our capital the scene of their peace negotiations. All we could do was to suggest that they try to adjust their quarrel. Their agreement upon Washington is a concrete recognition of our benevolent disposition toward them. It is also an act which greatly enhances the prestige of this government among the nations of the world. It is a public certificate of the unique position of the United States. This achievement of the Roosevelt administration is one to which every American must turn with pride.

Proof of Our "World Power."

From the New York Tribune.

We have been a "world power" for four generations, but the realization of the fact is made more vivid and more vital both here and elsewhere, by such an incident as this. There were those who foreboded quarrels and wars from our larger entry into "world politics," and especially from our recent advent in Asian affairs. But here are those very doings and those very circumstances not only showing themselves compatible with our continued peace, but actually making strongly toward the re-establishment of peace between other powers. The president's mediation and the choice of Washington mark America as a "world power" in the making of peace as truly and efficiently as we could ever hope it to be in the waging of war.

Government Attitude Correct.

From the New York Times.

During the progress of the war the people of this country in private speech and through all unofficial channels of utterance have been at no particular pains to conceal their sympathy for one of the belligerents; it may be that on many accounts a greater reserve in their expressions would have been advisable. But the attitude of our government has been at all times absolutely correct and President Roosevelt's efforts to bring the two contending nations together have been obviously so disinterested, impartial, generous and humane as well as tactful and wisely directed, that the suggestion of Washington as the place for the negotiations was not only natural but was exceedingly likely to be approved in St. Petersburg as well as in Tokyo.

One of the Greatest Conventions.

From the New York Herald.

Both the Russian and Japanese governments have requested that Washington be chosen as the place for holding the proposed peace conference. Should the negotiations prove successful, one of the greatest of international conventions may become known in history as "the treaty of Washington." The Japanese and Russian ministers at our national capital, however, knowing what a hot spot it is in summer, will favor an adjournment to some northern resort.

Assured of a Fair Deal.

From the Washington Star.

A peace meeting in Washington will be in full view of all the world, with every interest involved assured of a fair deal. And in view of the efforts which have been made by the United States in the past to secure an adjustment of the Manchurian problem by pacific methods, it is eminently appropriate that the war which was waged by Japan to this same end should be terminated by a treaty negotiated at the American capital. Thus again is demonstrated the new position of the United States in the great world field as a factor for peace and progress.

Highly Complimentary.

From the Baltimore American.

Russia's ready assent to the alternative suggestion of Washington is highly complimentary to the American nation, since it means that, notwithstanding the known popular sympathy for her opponent, she is certain of a fair hearing and courteous treatment on our soil. A similar claim could not have been made for Paris, where the pro-Russian feeling is so strong that there is no certainty that the people would suppress their own inclinations to make it uncomfortable for Japan, the victorious foe of their former ally.

Tangled Up.

"Gentlemen of the jury," queried the clerk of the court, "have you fully agreed to disagree?"

"We have," answered the foreman of the bunch. "The lawyers have tangled the case up so that we don't know any more about it than they do."—Chicago News.

Doesn't Want to Go Back.

Howell—Don't you wish you could live your life over again?

Powell—Well, I should say not! I've got a 20-year endowment policy maturing next month.—Judge.

STATE GLEANINGS

Snakes of Pennsylvania.

R. W. Wehrle sent a specimen of the Indiana county copperhead to Prof. H. A. Surface, of the department of economic zoology at Harrisburg on Monday. The reptile was killed by Frank Isenburg, of near the Devil's Elbow, Monday morning. While a barefoot daughter of Mr. Isenburg was in the chicken yard Sunday a large copperhead jumped at her feet, but she escaped before the reptile succeeded in biting her. The vicinity of Devil's Elbow is an ideal retreat for copperheads and many have been killed there this year. Mr. Wehrle has sent a number of specimens of local snakes to the Harrisburg officials, who are preparing a scientific publication on the snakes of Pennsylvania, which will give the names of the reptiles that are poisonous and should be killed as well as the ones which should be protected.—Indiana Progress.

A Lively Battle Representation.

A few boys Tuesday were giving an exhibition of a Russian-Japanese battle in the vacant space in the rear of Fink's store. They had a piece of pipe in which they had plugged some powder and were using it for a cannon. When the command for the bombardment to commence was given the cannon was shot off with a roar that disturbed the whole block. The cannon, however, couldn't stand the heavy charge of powder and flew into a hundred pieces. Fortunately no one was hurt, but when the boys saw what an excitement their fun had created they took to their heels.—Punxsutawney News.

A Calf Curiosity.

M. J. Clawson of Avonmore has a natural curiosity in the shape of a five-legged calf. He has named the calf "Joco, the Multiplier," because it sets down four and carries one. The calf is of the male persuasion and is 15 months old. It was born in Armstrong county and weighs 410 pounds. It is well formed and differs from the ordinary calf only in having five legs. The additional leg is attached to one of the muscles lying between the shoulders. The leg is perfectly formed, the hoof having three divisions instead of two.—West Newton Times-Sun.

A Wedding Demonstration.

Last Thursday night a crowd of young people gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Miller of Donaghy avenue, to serenade Mr. and Mrs. John Troutman, who were married on that evening. There was not much objection to the noise, but when the crowd commenced to destroy property the police were called. Plants and porch chairs weredestroyed and the front door was broken from its hinges and fell in among the guests with several girls and boys sprawling on the floor. Before the officers arrived the crowd dispersed.—Butler Herald.

A Fairy Rose.

Samuel Apple is the proud possessor of a rose bush which is only four inches high and has one tiny white bloom measuring less than an inch in diameter. About three months ago Mr. Apple received some seeds in the mail and among them were some Fairy rose seeds. He planted the seeds and in three weeks the plants were an inch high. When the plants were about six weeks old a flower bud appeared and on the seventy-first day from the time the seeds were planted the bud burst into full bloom.—Indiana Gazette.

Hives Quadrupled.

E. C. Gourley of near Frostburg has the champion brood bee of this section. Saturday, May 13, it sent out a swarm and on Monday of last week Mr. Gourley hived a double swarm from the same soap. The two swarms were united and one of the queens was placed back in the hive, but not for long, as on Thursday she came forth with a large retinue of workers and was given a home of her own. Instead of one hive, therefore, Mr. Gourley now has four all doing well.—Punxsutawney Spirit.

Copperheads Abound.

A small son of Harry Henderson of Hallett was bitten by a copperhead snake on Sunday and his condition is very serious.

Jim Borland is the champion snake-killer we have heard from this spring, having killed a copperhead on his lease, and while not enough for stove-wood, was about as large as that specie generally grow. They are the most dangerous reptile found in this part of the country.—Venango Citizen-Press.

His Legs Likely to Be Even.

The injury sustained last week by Ralph Knepper in a runaway will probably prove to be a blessing in disguise. When Knepper was four years old he fell under a wagon and his right leg was crushed. When he recovered the right leg was an inch and a half shorter than the other. In the runaway last week Knepper's left leg was broken. The physician states that when the bone mends the leg will be the same length as the other one.—Somerset Herald.

Quarter Troubled His Conscience.

Mr. C. Wilbur Billings, secretary of Edinboro Fair, received a letter a few days ago from a man living in Crawford county, who inclosed twenty-five cents and stated that six years ago while attending the fair he beat his way through the gate and that he sent the quarter to ease his conscience, which he said has been troubled over the matter for a long time.—Edinboro Independent.

Dropped Into a Coal Hole.

While Postmaster Naugle was walking down Center street yesterday forenoon deeply immersed in a newspaper he was reading he failed to notice that the coal hole in front of Hocking Brothers' store was open and he plunged into the basement. Fortunately he escaped with a few bruises but a hard shake up.—Meyersdale Commercial.

A Blacksnake Cremated.

Christ Stephens and Enoch Miller killed a seven-foot blacksnake down about Griffith's Mill in Cambria township, recently. Enoch cut his head off and Christ put him in the furnace, which accounts for nobody else having seen it.—Cambria Tribune.

Eagles Are Plenty.

It is said that eagles are quite plenty this year and are building nests and hatching young in some secluded spots at the headwaters of the smaller streams.—Ruffsman's Journal.

IT IS TO SMILE.

"Is your engagement a secret?" asked a Sedan girl of a young man Sunday.

"Oh, no," he replied; "the girl knows it."—Kansas City Journal.

"Your money or your life!" growled the footpad.

"Take me life," responded the Irishman. "I'm savin' me money for me old age!"—Cleveland Leader.

She—And do you think it's possible for a man to love two girls at the same time?

He—Oh, yes; provided it isn't also at the same place.—Philadelphia Ledger.

She—"The odor of coffee always gets me up in the morning."

He—"You're lucky! The coffee at our boarding house isn't strong enough to have an odor."—Detroit Free Press.

Gerald—The foddists are now claiming that yawning is a most healthful and beautifying exercise.

Gladys—Well, if that opinion gains ground Cholly Sapshead will become much more popular with the girls.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

JAPANESE BONDS AT HIGHEST RATE

Old 4s in London and New 4 1-2s in New York Make New Record.

FIGURING ON THE INDEMNITY

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 18.—Japanese old 4 per cents in London, and the new 4½ per cents here, have this week reached the highest price of their history. On the other hand, the two new 6 per cent issues have failed, by 2 points or thereabouts, to reach the high figure scored after the Mukden victory, in March. One question, asked with a personal interest by many thousand individuals, when news of the peace negotiations first came in, was what the ultimate effect of peace will be on Japanese credit, and on the price of outstanding Japanese bonds as reflecting that credit. The answer must doubtless depend to some extent on the money indemnity which Japan will receive from Russia.

Two-thirds of the suggested billion-dollar payment would suffice to pay off at par the $260,000,000 borrowed abroad by Japan since the war began, and the $380,000,000 borrowed in Japan itself. Japan's old 4 per cent bonds—the $50,000,000 issue now equaled on the London stock exchange—were placed in June, 1899, at 90. The date of issue is noteworthy, for two reasons; first, because Japan was still in its flush of prestige following its Chinese war of 1895; second, because England, where the loan was subscribed, had not yet entered the Boer war period. But the issue price was never reached afterward. In the last months of 1899, the highest price touched on the London stock exchange was 88¾. In 1900, they sold down to 75¼; then, early in 1903, they rose to 89½, thus nearly touching the price of issue. The eastern war cloud followed; the fall of the bonds to 62 in April, 1904, when the land campaign was just beginning; the slow improvement, then the abrupt recovery of this year, ending in Friday's price of 89¾, which is actually high record in the market history of that security.

The present situation, with England out of its Boer war nightmare and with Japan's fighting ended, is more favorable than it has been at any previous date in the history of the loan, always assuming that no such financial reaction as overtook England after the peace of 1902 will exhaust Japan. Barring this, the Japanese 4s would certainly seem to be worth as much as Spanish 4s, which have touched 93 this year, or Hungarian 4s at par.

NO CHANCE OF CATCHING LONDON IN POPULATION

Greater New York's Census for This Year Will Not Bring the Figures Up to 4,000,000.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 18.—From present indications it seems improbable that New York city will reach the 4,000,000 mark in the new state census report, although pressing it closely. From the best procurable figures, reliable statistics and reports from the still uncompleted districts in the city it is predicted that the population of New York city is 3,965,155.

Most important, however, to the New Yorker is the population of old New York, Manhattan and the Bronx, or New York county. Indications point to a total enumeration of 2,373,696.

New York may not boast of overtaking London, however, for in reality that center of human life contains 6,581,372 souls—within the metropolis and city police limits. In other words, London's "Manhattan" has 4,613,812 souls, as against New York's 2,127,602, whereas her "greater city" has 6,581,372 souls as compared with Greater New York's 3,987,153.

PREACHES ON TRIAL.

Cincinnati Pastor Gives Discourse In English and German in Smithfield German Lutheran Church.

The Rev. Carl August Voss of Cincinnati preached two trial sermons before the congregation of the Smithfield Street German Evangelical church yesterday. In the morning he delivered a sermon in German on "Winning the World for Christ," while in the evening he preached in English on "High Pressure."

The English sermon was an innovation in the church, and is in accord with the desire of the congregation to include English in their services hereafter. Two large congregations heard the trial sermons, but no vote will be taken for some time. Other candidates are to be heard including the Revs. Schweitzer and Steger of Baltimore. It is not probable that any more candidates will be heard for several weeks, and in the meanwhile the Rev. Gustave Probst, whose resignation was secred, will continue in the pulpit. The pastorate carries an annual salary of $4,000.

UNION CLUB ROOF GARDEN IS READY FOR THE SUMMER

The Union club roof garden cafe on the balcony on top of the Frick building will be opened to the members tomorrow evening. The entire balcony extending along the Grant street side of the building has been fitted up with palms and shrubs and furnished with dining tables, refreshment stands and wicker chairs. Pretty Japanese lanterns and multi-colored electric lights supply the illumination. During two nights a week an orchestra will be on hand during the dinner hour. Many of the members took advantage of the cool breezes on the balcony yesterday and voted it the coolest place in Pittsburgh.

OLD MAN'S BAD THROWING GETS HIM IN PRISON

Thomas O'Brien, aged 70, is a prisoner in No. 7 police station, charged with disorderly conduct. He lives at Jane and South Twentieth street. Last evening while taking a walk he was annoyed by a crowd of boys, some of whom threw stones at him. Picking up a little stone O'Brien threw it at his tormentors. His aim was bad and the stone went through an open window at 2022 Jane street, and hit Mrs. Jane Barton on the head.

THREE MEN SHOT TO DEATH IN BATTLE OVER A WIDOW

Fishing Party in Missouri Terminates in a Bloody Tragedy With All the Male Members Dead.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

POPLAR BLUFF, MO., June 18.—A bloody battle occurred near here Saturday evening among members of a fishing party in which all participants were shot to death.

THE DEAD:
CHARLES BOOTH.
CHARLES VANDERPOOL,
CLEVELAND BARRETT.

These three men, accompanied by the wife of Booth and a young widow, went down to Dan river, about 10 miles south of this city, for a day's fishing. A quantity of beer was taken along and the men are said to have become somewhat intoxicated. A quarrel arose between Booth and Vanderpool, the cause being that both were suitors for the favors of the young widow.

According to the story of the two women, the only living eye-witnesses during the quarrel, Booth pulled his gun and commenced shooting at Vanderpool. Vanderpool returned the fire. Booth was shot in the left side of the head and instantly killed. Vanderpool received two bullets, one through the stomach and the other in the lungs. He was brought to this city and lived until this afternoon. Barrett took no part in the shooting and was shot by a stray bullet while attempting to settle the difficulty. He was shot in the breast and died immediately.

The dead men were taken to the undertaking rooms of George Begley and Coroner Seybold held inquests this morning. This is the seventeenth killing in Butler county within the past 10 months.

PIRATES MASSACRE 150 NATIVES IN SIBERIA

Secure Landing by Pretending Friendship, Then Murder and Rob Villagers.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—Details of a terrible massacre by pirates of 150 natives on the Siberian coast has been received in a letter from Pretopavlovski, on the coast of Kamchatka.

A. Morogravlenof has written to his brother, a resident of San Francisco, that in the early part of the year the natives in one of the small settlements down the coast observed a yacht or schooner drop anchor in the harbor, and its coming was hailed with cries of rejoicing. Off the vessel came a number of small boats. The natives could see the crew piling what they thought were supplies into the several craft. The men then pulled for the shore. During that and the next day there was heard the firing of arms and later smoke and fire were observed. This led to an investigation from Petropavlovski and other towns on the coast, and a horrible tale of pillage and massacre was brought to light.

About the streets of the settlement, writes Morogravlenof, were strewn the bodies of 150 of the inhabitants, shot and cut to pieces by the pirates, who, under the pretense of friendship, had gained a landing on the coast. Robbery was their motive, for every hut had been ransacked and anything of marketable value had been taken. Who the marauders were, those who managed to make their escape could not say, beyond giving the information that some Japanese were in the party. When Morogravlenof sent his letter the people of Petropavlovski feared an attack on that town.

UNIONTOWN MAN A BISHOP.

The Rev. Dr. F. E. J. Lloyd Is Elected Coadjutor for Oregon Episcopal District.

UNIONTOWN, June 18.—(Special.)—Word was received in Uniontown today that the Rev. Dr. F. E. J. Lloyd, rector of St. Peter's Episcopal church of Uniontown, has been elected coadjutor-bishop of the diocese of Oregon over 10 other candidates. The telegram states that the election was unanimous. Dr. Lloyd is at present visiting his old parish at Hamilton, O., but has been notified and is expected here tomorrow night. The diocese of Oregon includes the entire state, and the Rev. Dr. Lloyd will in time succeed Bishop Morris, who is nearly 90 years old, and is soon to retire.

The Rev. Dr. Lloyd is 46 years old and will be one of the youngest bishops in the country. He was born in Wales and was a graduate of Dorchester college at Cambridge, England. He has been rector of the Uniontown church for two years, having previously been rector of Christ church at Cleveland, O., for six years.

CHURCH AND STATE ARE SURE TO BE SEPARATED

French Chamber of Deputies Is Giving the Subject Its Entire Attention.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

PARIS, June 18.—The question of the separation of church and state is still occupying practically the whole attention of the chamber of deputies. The debate has lasted since March 20, but when it is considered that the reform means an utter reversal of the long-standing policy which regarded the church as a constitutional part of the nation it is not surprising that discussion has been animated at times. However, the ardor of the debates appears to have died out since the passage of the first four sections, though the opponents of the measure continue to obstruct its progress to the best of their ability.

Despite this and the long interruptions occasioned by the celebration of these religious festivals, Easter, the Ascension and Pentecost, much has been accomplished. Sixteen sections of the total of 57 have been adopted, the fundamental principles of the new enactment therein comprised, including the delicate questions declaring that the state does not give official recognition to religion, suppression of the public worship budget and the settlement of the great problem of the disposal of church property, the latter forming one of the most difficult questions raised by the bill.

A method of pensioning members of the clergy claiming long service has also been satisfactorily devised and it only remains now to settle a system for the formation of parochial bodies freshly brought into being for the direction of government religious edifices and also provide regulations for the control of the services. These two points will probably arouse considerable argument, but the committee having the measure in charge shows such willingness to accept reasonable suggestions that it is hoped the entire bill will pass through the chamber before the long vacation, which begins about a month hence.

DARWINIAN THEORY CAUSES FIGHT IN HIGHLAND PARK

A park policeman interfered just as the blood began to flow freely, and both were locked up.

H. H. Robertson was held over at Central police station yesterday. He is alleged to have had a bogus check cashed for $6.66 at a Market street store.

BECOMING GREAT POLITICAL POWER

Agricultural Department, Which Is Under Fire, Grows to Immense Proportions.

BIG FIELD OF INVESTIGATION

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 18.

It just happens that at the very time that President Roosevelt is launching a commission of assistant heads of departments to investigate methods of business in the national government, the department of agriculture is under fire because of alleged leaks of information regarding the reports of the cotton crop. In a short life the agricultural department has become one of the greatest political and governmental forces in the United States. It is a machine absolutely in the control of one man if he chooses to use it.

The first agricultural department appropriation bill carried a total of $253,360. The agricultural bill passed by the last congress totaled $6,882,640. Like a great snowball, this department, once started and fostered by the theory that it was for the salvation of the farmer, has grown until its ramifications reach to every section of the United States and its insular possessions. When James Wilson, the present secretary, entered the department in 1897, the appropriations which had been made for the fiscal year of 1898 were $3,182,902. So that in nine years the expenses of the department have more than doubled.

Rapid Increase in Cost.

A few samples of the purposes for which money is expended will show how the department has grown. In 1886 there was appropriated for the bureau of forestry the sum of $16,000. The appropriation made for this bureau this year is $793,180. The bureau of seeds, which conducts the free congressional distribution, was spending in 1888, $168,240. It is now spending $242,942. The bureau of animal industry was given $615,000 in 1888. It will spend during the next fiscal year, unless the head of the bureau has lost his gift, $1,540,000. The weather bureau alone has swollen its appropriations until now it costs the government nearly as much as the entire department cost the government in 1890.

It is pointed out by members of congress who have experience in the making of appropriation bills that the president's commission will find a fruitful source of information in this system in the department of agriculture. When the agriculture department appropriation bill was made up last year there was criticism that the secretary of agriculture had been employing large numbers of persons at high salaries whose names did not appear on the lists submitted to congress, and whose pay came from lump appropriations.

Congress Stops a Leak.

It was decided that this should stop, so the committee on agriculture decided that each of these persons should be regularly provided for and appropriations made. At the same time they were placed in the classified service. The number of persons so employed was nearly 500.

Having done this the committee deliberately provided that the door the secretary of agriculture had been using should be opened a little wider for such irregular work and it put on the bill a provision authorizing the secretary to make appointments, etc., to be paid out of the lump fund of the several divisions, bureaus and offices as may be for the best interests of the service, and that the maximum salary "shall not exceed $3,000 per annum."

Thus congress has unwittingly legalized this irregularity.

WEST VIRGINIA GETS PAY FOR TRANSPORTING TROOPS

WASHINGTON, June 18.—(Special.)—The war department has notified Attorney C. C. Calhoun that the state of West Virginia has been allowed $6,678.13 in part payment for expenses incurred in the transportation of its troops during the Spanish-American war. Capt. Calhoun believes this amount will later be increased to $10,000. The check has been sent to Gov. Dawson, who discovered recently that this amount was due the state and employed Capt. Calhoun to bring the matter before the department.

Too Close to a Ham.

Louis Modish of South Twelfth street was fined $10 and costs or 30 days to the workhouse yesterday. The arresting officer said Modish was loitering about the South Side market and had his hand on a ham.

Too Handy With a Razor.

John Gercie of 2912 Mary street was fined $25 and costs or 90 days to the workhouse yesterday. The police say he was trying to use a razor on a companion in Carson street on Saturday.

WOULD COLONIZE THE IMMIGRANTS

Civic Federation Will Begin Discussion of the Subject in New York Today.

WANT NEW NATIONAL LAW

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau
Herald Building, Herald Square.
NEW YORK, June 18.

Capitalists, business men, sociologists and others, responding to a call of the New York Civic Federation, will begin tomorrow afternoon a discussion of the immigration question, with a view to obtaining reliable information to be used this winter in an effort to obtain a revision of the immigration laws.

The meeting will be held at the rooms of the New York board of trade and transportation, at 203 Broadway, at 4 o'clock. Among those expected to take part in the discussion are Charles A. Moore, president of the New York Civic Federation; Oscar S. Strauss, member of the court of arbitration at The Hague; John Mitchell, president of the Mine Workers of America; Robert Watchorn, commissioner of immigration; Joseph Senner, former commissioner; Emil L. Boas, president of the North Atlantic conference of steamship companies, and M. V. Richards, land and industrial agent of the Southern Railway Company.

Regardless of political party lines, citizens of all parts of the United States have come to regard the enormous influx of certain classes of immigrants into the big cities, as a serious question that must be dealt with at once, and it is stated that President Roosevelt favors legislation on the subject.

The question of distribution of immigrants is the most perplexing of all. Sixty-four per cent of all the immigrants who come to this country land in New York city, and a very large proportion of those who come to Ellis island never get out of the city. Within the last six months the overcrowded condition of the East Side streets and tenements has awakened new interest in the matter.

In the south, in portions of the west and in many of the New England states, there are wide areas of unoccupied land and a great demand everywhere for farm labor. James P. Archibald, secretary of the New York Civic Federation, said today that at the meeting tomorrow the suggestion would be made that wealthy philanthropists purchase tracts of land in various sections of the country with a view to colonizing immigrants. The question of a more rigid supervision of the methods of selecting immigrants, both here and in Europe, will also be considered.

All hopes of a coalboat stage for this morning was dispelled by rivermen yesterday afternoon. All available empties are being loaded with coal, and when the opportunity is afforded a good run of coal will be sent down the river.

Epilepsy
can be cured. The discovery that it is purely a nervous disorder has led to the application of the great nerve restorer,
Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine with the happy result that thousands have been completely cured, and others are being cured every day.
"In the year '92 I was stricken with epilepsy. Doctors treated me for several years, but I grew worse. I would have such awful fits. I cannot tell my awful sufferings. A druggist recommended Dr. Miles' Nervine, and I bought a bottle, and found it helped me, and I took three more and am cured. I had only one light spell after I commenced taking it. I do hope the time will come when everybody will know that your medicine cures these awful fits."
JOHN LEWIS, Clarion, Pa.
Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold under a guarantee that your druggist will refund your money if first bottle does not benefit.

NEWS OF THE NEARBY TOWNS AND COUNTRY

PREACHES SERMON TO THE SENIORS

President Crawford Talks at Allegheny College on Christian Institutions.

PROGRAM FOR COMING WEEK

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

MEADVILLE, June 17.—President William H. Crawford preached the baccalaureate sermon to the seniors of Allegheny college this morning. His text was: "Add to your faith knowledge." Peter 1-5. He said in part:

"I need hardly say that a college pervaded by a Christian atmosphere, governed by a board recognizing its high responsibility, led by a faculty keenly appreciating their rare opportunities for the making of manhood and the creating of profound inspirations, and filled with students of the sort described by our founders, I need hardly say that such a college occupies a place of unique and transcendent importance in the educational work of our country. From such colleges have come men who have made our country what it is. It is well known that the Christian colleges of the United States have furnished for us more than one-half of all our presidents, three-fourths of our chief justices, more than one-half of the senate and a good proportion of our congressmen. They have done more than any other class of institutions to create stalwart, strong, safe leadership.

Future of Christian College.

"But what shall be the future of the Christian college? From the standpoint of the church the Christian colleges ought to be maintained for the sake of the membership of the churches, for the sake of a broad-minded, intelligent, wide-visioned laity and for the sake of a worthy ministry. The recruits for such a ministry will come from the Christian colleges. There is no other place they can come from. Read over the lists of the graduating classes of state universities and the colleges of private foundation and you will find hardly anywhere the names of young men who expect to enter the ministry. I do not criticise these institutions. I believe in them. I merely call attention to a fact widely published throughout the country during the year just closing that these institutions are not furnishing young men for the ministry of our churches.

"One of the most forcible arguments of the Christian college from the standpoint of the state is that it is the strongest moral and religious force in modern education. We do not teach religion in our public schools. We cannot. We dare not even go so far as to read the Bible in these schools so we are told. Many of our most eminent men maintain that all teaching of religion in any form should be turned over to the church and the home. I do not argue this morning that the Bible should remain in the public schools, but I do say that if we put the Bible out of the schools and with it all reference to the great facts of the Bible, God, the soul, and the future life, we shall have poor foundation left for any teaching of mrality whatever.

Can Supply Good Teachers.

"Two things the Christian college can do and ought to do for the state schools. First, supply them with teachers whose moral and religious influence within the school room and in the community, will be wholesome and inspiring. Second, insist that there shall be in the public schools no teaching hostile to Christianity, and no attempts to undermine our Bible. We do not ask too much when we require that in the schools of this Christian nation, maintained at the public expense, Christianity shall not be antagonized or ignored, but simply taken for granted."

In addressing the class, President Crawford said: "You have done well your work and you are worthy of all the college will give you. It means much when I say this, for the college gives you her good name and you are to bear it forever. Here or elsewhere, near or far, you will always be sons and daughters of Allegheny. The name of the college is yours and no one can take it from you. May I say once more that my ambition for you all is not success merely, but service. Getting is not the highest ideal, but giving and doing. It is more blessed to give than to receive and our great example came into this world not to be ministered unto but to minister. You and I can have no higher ideal than is to be found in Him."

This afternoon the college love feast was led by the Rev. Dr. Jonathan Hannett. Tonight the annual sermon before the Christian association was preached by Bishop Henry Spellmeyer, D. D. The following is the program for the coming week:

Brakeman Thrashes Cowboys.

BUCYRUS, O., June 18.—(Special.)—Cowboys connected with a wild west show met defeat before one lone railway brakeman here last night. The cow punchers got into an argument with Gale Forest, who started in to "clean up" the gang. Up to the time of the arrival of the police he had laid out a half dozen and was in good trim to finish the band. He was arrested and with several of the cowboys was lodged in the city prison.

Gordon of the Second Presbyterian church of Uniontown preached the sermon. The Rev. C. D. A. Hoon has been pastor of the Fairchance church for five years, but has resigned to assume the pastorate of a church at Waroner, Indian Territory. His successor has not been chosen.

WORKING PARSON FINALLY OPENS HIS NEW CHURCH

Cumberland (Md.) Minister Helps to Erect Structure, After Finding Congregation Without a Home.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

CUMBERLAND, MD., June 18.—The new Central Methodist Episcopal church was today thrown open to public worship for the first time, the services being conducted by the pastor, the Rev. J. C. Jeter, assisted by the Rev. C. H. Cannon of Trinity church. The sermon was delivered by the Rev. J. Polk Stump of Alexandria, Va. The new church has been erected not only through the efforts of the pastor, but the greater portion of the work was done by him. He helped in tearing down the old Ohr residence, in clearing away the debris, in digging the foundation trenches, in sawing and hauling timbers, in the work of erection, and did part of the painting. Yesterday he spent part of the day in putting down the carpets and giving the finishing touches to the interior. He has been named "the Working Parson."

When the Rev. Mr. Jeter came to Cumberland he found a small congregation without a church, worshiping in the city council chamber. The church cost about $10,000.

MOFFAT'S ADVICE TO W. AND J. BOYS

President of School Tells Seniors to Trust in the Lord and Do Good.

SERMONS AT OTHER COLLEGES

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, PA., June 18.—Commencement week at Washington and Jefferson college began today when the Rev. Dr. James D. Moffat, president, preached the baccalaureate sermon at 11 o'clock this morning to nearly 1,200 people in the gymnasium. All Presbyterian churches in town closed their doors and their congregations attended the college services. The entire graduating class appeared in caps and gowns. President Moffat chose his text from the third verse of the thirty-seventh Psalm: "Trust in the Lord and do good."

He said: "I can wish nothing better for you than that you may take my text as a motto for your life. Trust in the Lord, in such a practical way that you will do good. Strive to get rid of the selfishness that is riveted in our human nature by doing good as you may have the opportunity. It will pay in higher and better coin than gold. Selfishness ever tends to isolation. Who cares for a selfish man? The unselfish man grows more useful and happier as long as he lives and kindred spirits seek his friendship in this life and eternity."

This evening the annual sermon before the College Young Men's Christian association was preached by the Rev. Daniel Russell, pastor of the Bellefield Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh. The principal event of tomorrow will be the class day exercises in the afternoon. In the evening the annual junior oratorical contest for a $50 prize will be held in the gymnasium, followed by the commencement reception of President and Mrs. Moffat in the college chapel. In the evening will also be held an informal senior dance, followed by the banquet of the seniors.

ALLIANCE, O.—President A. B. Riker preached the baccalaureate sermon to the graduates of Mt. Union college this morning. He was assisted by the Rev. Mr. Howell of Brooklyn, N. Y., and the Rev. Mr. Ayers of the Drew Theological seminary. Fellowship meeting this afternoon was led by the Rev. Dr. W. B. Judd of the college. Tonight the Rev. Dr. D. A. Denton of New Martinsburg, W. Va., former editor of the Methodist Times, addressed the College Christian association.

EASTON.—The Rev. Dr. E. D. Warfield, president of Lafayette college, delivered the baccalaureate sermon this morning. He took for his text Isaiah xii:2, "The Lord Jehovah is my strength and my song and He is also become my salvation." Following the senior farewell this evening the Rev. John Balcom Shaw, D. D., of Chicago delivered the annual sermon before the Brainerd society.

WAYNESBURG.—The annual baccalaureate sermon to the senior class of Waynesburg college was delivered this evening in Alumni hall by the Rev. Dr. J. D. Gold of Uniontown. Last night the fifty-fourth anniversary exercises of the Philomathean Literary society were held. The class awarded diplomas by the society were: Misses Edna B. Hawkins, Carrie Ingham, Jane Mealy, Jane Parry, Lucy Sayers, Mollie A. Walton and Elizabeth V. Walters.

BRADDOCK ROOTERS ARE LOYAL TO THEIR TEAM

"I never saw a more excited crowd than the one that attended the game yesterday at Youngstown," declared Harry Kellar, the first baseman on the Braddock team last night. "Those 500 Braddock rooters who accompanied the team surely made lots of noise. When Edmundson scored the winning run in the eleventh inning the Braddock rooters fell out of the grand stand, and some of them rolled over on the grass, so wild with joy were they.

"We had lots of fun with Jack Dolan, Youngstown's veteran pitcher. Every man on our team took two strikes before we began to hit. We made him pitch all the time, and maybe Jack was not sore. Cushman pitched good ball for us all the time. This victory will be a good thing for the game in Braddock," concluded Kellar.

Dick Collins, last year with Washington, will join the Sharon team today to play second base. Sharon plays at Butler today.

Umpire List, released by Sharon, will work the games at Akron.

Pitcher Cy Voorhees may join the Youngstown team.

Berlin is having a walk-over in the Somerset County league, having won all its games. Rockwood is second with two defeats.

BASKETBALL CHAMPIONSHIP.

East and West Will Meet in a Series Next Year.

The east and west will meet in college basketball next year, and the championship of the country will be decided. The western colleges have formed an association, composed of Wisconsin, Minnesota, Chicago, Illinois, Purdue and Michigan universities, and the winner of this series will meet the winner of the eastern Intercollegiate association series—Columbia, Yale, Princeton, Cornell, Pennsylvania and Harvard.

The western colleges have fallen in line with the easterners in the matter of changing the existing playing rules, and Minnesota has been given representation on the collegiate rules committee. The rules committee is at present busily engaged on the rules, and will issue the collegiate basketball guide in the fall. Several important changes in regards to the game will probably be made by the colleges, as much dissatisfaction was expressed with conditions of college basketball last season.

BIG LEAGUE NEXT.

DULUTH, WIS., June 18.—(Special.)—Wisconsin's star pitcher of this year is a youth named Alwin Cummings, who is a freshman in the engineering department. Cummings is a graduate of Ashtabula, where he played football, baseball and hockey in 1904. He comes from Duluth, where in the high school he pitched gilt-edged ball. Against a couple of Northern league teams while still in the high school Cummings scored one victory and held the league team to a couple of runs in the other. He has been on the Wisconsin team since the season began.

HARVARD CREW IS IN BETTER FORM

Yals Falls Back in Oarsmanship and the Crimson Adherents Are Happy.

BLUE ON AN EXCURSION

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

NEW LONDON, CONN., June 18.—If Harvard crews improve as much next week as they did last bets will not only be placed at evens on the Crimsons, but many of the "heelers" at Red Top would be willing to stake odds on the result. Coach Wray has certainly put considerable life and speed in the crews since they started training on the Thames. "It will be hard work again next week," said Wray, "if the weather does not interfere."

Yale has fallen back several points in her oarsmanship while Harvard was picking up. Capt. Whittier would not give out the figures of the "time row" Saturday night when the two eights rowed over the upper half of the course and the freshmen were left at least six lengths astern. It is reported the time was not satisfactory.

Yale's squad enjoyed an excursion this morning on Walter S. Jennings' big yacht Tuscarora. The trip included a sail out across Long Island sound and around Fishers Island.

Harvard's varsity crew took a drive on buckboards this afternoon, while the freshmen boarded the launch and sailed down the Thames as far as Ocean Beach.

SQUEEZE PLAY IS FAST.

New York Americans Work It So Rapidly That Few See It.

Other Gossip.

NEW YORK, June 18.—(Special.)—The second inning of the overheated battle between the Yankees and the Chicago Slashers at American League park on Thursday last exuded a little fact of interest connected with the squeeze play, that dainty confection developed last spring down in Dixie.

Hal Chase had attained third when Kleinow went at bat. Intently as even the men who write the story of the game for afternoon papers and have to pipe every move, watched the machinery buzzing, no signal was seen to pass between any players. The most rabid fan detected no arrangement. Kleinow landed on White's twister, and planted it between third and pitcher. Third flashed the round thing to first, but the throw was too slow and didn't have the right angle. Kleinow was safe. The ball had scarcely smashed into Donahue's mitt when Hal was over the home plate.

Things had been worked so quietly, so scientifically that few knew that the new favorite of the fan, the "Squeeze Play," had been worked.

Clark Griffith's energetic zeal has developed a brand new trait in him. The addition to his repertoire of tricks has been noted in the dressing rooms. The other day, while getting out of his togs he started by berating the weather, and wound up by making life miserable for the Yankees with his friendly fault finding. While pulling his jacket off he told Dougherty he'd better reverse his aces and get wise to the side movement in fielding a ball. While his under pinnings were being pulled over his head he shouted that Elberfield might also devote a little more study to getting toward third quicker, and when his cuticle was being rubbed to the color of a boiled lobster, he chucked a piece of advice to Chesbro. Not that fault was really being found by him, but Griff seems to feel that the time for handing out advice is not in a cool moment, but when the men have pranced from the field with their game and their individual parts in it fresh in their memories.

Chesbro's peevish arm, under the kindly pettings it has received and the earnest attention Jack has paid to turning his wrist without breaking it and losing the moisture he presents to the ball, has swung into line again, and ought to be in harness the rest of the season. The opening game with Chicago, when he worked eight innings, showed that his form is rising, although he did make a wild pitch over Kleinow's head that let two runs titter to the throne.

George Davis' genial old figure at short for Chicago has got New York fandom cinched. The former Giant's reception here has been more cordial than the meeting of deadly but diplomatic enemies. Whenever he sprawls over and plucks a ball that might try to wander away for a home run, the crowd roars him on to even more impossible stunts. His appearance in New York doubtless has a salutary effect upon the box office.

ROGERS SAYS "BASEBALL LAW" IS NO GOOD

NEW HAVEN, CONN., June 18.—(Special.)—Terry Rogers, until this week captain and second baseman of the New Haven baseball nine in the Connecticut league, has sued for an injunction to restrain Sturgis Whitlock, president of the league, from continuing a suspension of 30 days and from collecting a fine of $30 imposed upon him. Rogers was punished for assaulting Umpire Charles Kennedy on May 30. Rogers contends that the civil courts know no such thing as "baseball law," and that the amount of the fine is illegally withheld from him.

Fraudulent debtors in the United States are going to have a hard time, if the plans of the Credit Men's National association carry. A permanent prosecution fund is to be created and commercial agencies are requested to report the amounts of insurance carried by business men and firms on their stocks.

The Pittsburgh delegation to the national convention, held in Memphis last week, reached home last evening. It was composed of W. A. Given, Thomas H. Sheppard, F. M. Wickal, George W. Ryan, Cyrus Lewis, W. H. Cochrane, Frank E. Freese, G. W. Hoffman, M. J. Connelly, C. B. Hill and H. P. Howell.

During the convention addresses were made by Gov. Cox of Tennessee, Mayor Williams of Memphis, United States Senator Carmack, former Gov. Crittenden, Congressman Patterson and Mr. Given of Pittsburgh, the latter speaking on the evolution of the credit department.

The convention indorsed the establishment by local associations of adjustment bureaus for handling insolvent estates. The investigation and prosecution committee offered the following, which was adopted:

Whereas, It is the sense of this board that the prosecution of fraudulent debtors should be vigorously continued and that this very important department of our national work can be best administered and executed by the local associations; therefore, be it

Resolved, That this board recommends that the individual membership of this association be classified with local associations for the purpose solely of this work and their protection.

Resolved, That it is the sense of this board that each local association and the individual members be recommended and strongly urged to create a prosecution fund on a guaranty or cash basis, as each may prefer.

Resolved further, That the total funds so created shall be known and designated as a national fund.

Resolved, That the mercantile agencies be induced to secure and include in their reports the item of fire insurance, which information is of great importance.

In connection with the national bankruptcy act, the following was adopted:

Resolved, That the National Association of Credit Men in convention assembled renews its expression of earnest belief in and adheres to the ethical principles and practical efficiency of a permanent national bankruptcy system.

It was decided to make a strong effort to secure more uniform exemption laws. It is also due to the efforts of this organization that the bulk sales law is now on the statute books of 23 states.

The national association now has a membership of 6,061, an increase during the year of 734. The Pittsburgh association increased its membership 110 to 250, and now stands fifth.

It was decided to meet in Baltimore next May. F. O. Fessenden of New York was elected president; Thomas H. Sheppard, secretary and treasurer of the Arbuthnot-Stephenson Company, vice president for Pennsylvania.

ARE MARRIED FIFTY YEARS.

Surrounded by their children and grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. David Arnheim of Allegheny yesterday celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. The festivities were held at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Joseph Fink, 1303 Locust street, Allegheny. The aged couple has the distinction of being the first couple married by the Rev. Dr. Arnhold of Philadelphia, who, 50 years ago, was rabbi of the congregation Rodeph Shalom, Pittsburgh.

At 1 p. m. the children and grandchildren attended a dinner at which the couple was present. During the afternoon the Rev. Dr. J. Last evening the older relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Arnheim were entertained.

Mr. Arnheim, who is aged 78, was born in Berlin, Germany, and came to this country, settling on the North Side in 1851. For many years he was a member of the Arnheim Live Stock Company, but for the last 12 years has been living retired. Mrs. Arnheim is aged 72, and is a native of Laupheim, Germany. She has been a resident of Allegheny over 50 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnheim had 12 children, six of whom are living. They also have 15 grandchildren. Morris Einstein, member of Allegheny select council from the Twelfth ward, and Leon Einstein of the Allegheny bureau of detectives, are nephews.

YOUNG WOMAN WILL GO WITH PEARY TO THE POLE

Maine School Teacher Has Arranged to Accompany the Exploring Party, Despite Protests of Her Family.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

PORTLAND, ME., June 18.—Miss Minnie Babb is to abandon school teaching and will sail with Robert E. Peary, the Arctic explorer, from Norway on Independence day, in quest of the North Pole. Miss Babb is 30 years of age, tall and handsome. For several years she has lived with an uncle and aunt at Westbrook, who are greatly averse to the trip she is about to take. They believe that she will be much better off if she attends to school teaching and leaves the hunt for the pole to Peary and his party of Eskimos.

"The idea of a girl going on such a trip," said the aunt. "But, then, Minnie has always had her own way. But if she goes, I hope Peary will find the Pole and that Minnie will be with him when he plants the Stars and Stripes there. She will stick with the crew until the end. You may depend on that."

Miss Babb has always been a friend of Mrs. Peary, and as stenographer has done much of Lieut. Peary's clerical work. She has read much about the frozen regions. She has prepared maps and routes for the coming trip, and all have been approved by Mr. Peary when submitted to him for examination.

From the peak of the explorer's new steamer, the Roosevelt, will float an American flag presented to Miss Babb by her pupils at the little school at North Harpswell.

"What danger can there be in such a journey?" she asks when the perils of an Arctic trip are pointed out to her by relatives who are opposed to her going. "No one need have fears for our safety. I shall be the first woman to reach the Pole, because I know Mr. Peary will find it this time."

Mrs. Peary and her daughter, Marie, 12 years of age, will also be passengers on the Roosevelt, but they will return home when the steamer arrives at the point where relief supply stations are to be established. Miss Babb says she will stick to the ship until the end. "If the men stand the trip I guess I can," she says.

The adventurous young woman has made an entire outfit of clothing suitable for use in the Arctic regions, even to several pairs of snow shoes.

HALF-MASTS THE CASTILIAN FLAG IN GOMEZ'S MEMORY

Spanish Club Shows Respect for Dead. The People of Havana Are in Mourning.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

HAVANA, June 18.—The flags of every nation represented in Havana are at half mast over the legations and consulates and from Cabanas fortress a gun booms every half hour in honor of the memory of Gen. Maximo Gomez. In every street there are long rows of Cuban flags draped in mourning and even the poorest tenements have crepe tied to the windows. The Spanish club joined in the mourning by hoisting the Castilian flag at half mast.

The body of Gen. Gomez was taken to the palace, where it now lies in state in the principal salon, surrounded by great masses of flowers sent by relatives, friends, comrades, the government departments and social and political organizations. The body is guarded by a detachment of rural guards and several of the general's former officers are acting as a guard of honor.

There was a procession of visitors to the palace today, but the face of the general was not exposed after it was looked upon by the members of his family. Band concerts and performances in the theaters, which are customary on Sunday, as well as all social galeties, were wholly suspended today.

Congress, at a special session early this morning, decided that the period of mourning shall continue three days, during which time all public business will be suspended. Both houses appropriated $15,000 for the funeral, which will take place Tuesday.

TOO GOOD FOR MEXICO.

C. D. Castle Tells Why Fine American Machinery Is Not Popular in Mexico Like Other Makes.

C. D. Castle, a Milwaukee business man, passed through Pittsburgh last night on his way to New York. He recently returned from Mexico City, where he spent 10 years.

"Some Milwaukee manufacturers of machinery, friends of mine, asked me what was the matter with the Mexicans that they never bought American machinery the second time, but seemed to prefer the heavy, clumsy machinery turned out by the English and the Germans," said Mr. Castle.

"I told them the very clumsiness of the English and German machinery was the secret of its success. American machinery, built for efficient work, with many delicate parts, when sent to Mexico was soon racked to pieces by the rude Mexicans who handle it, and when a part was broken instead of giving the work of repairs to an efficient workman, some blacksmith got the job, the consequence being that the machinery was soon irretrievably ruined. The English or German machines, however, could stand any amount of hard knocks and any common blacksmith could repair the breaks that might occur. The machines might not do as much or as good work as the American make, but they suited conditions in Mexico."

BEAR ROAMS STREETS UNHARMED BY CITIZENS

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., June 18.—(Special)—According to the statement of John Walter of this city a large brown bear is roaming the streets of this city by night. Walter says that as he was entering the yard of his home in William street, last night, he caught sight of the bear in East avenue nearby an electric light, which shone upon the animal and enabled Walter to determine its species accurately. Walter made no effort to encounter the animal, as he was unarmed and it disappeared down the street.

Call to McKeesport Pastor.

The congregation of the First Baptist church, Braddock, held a meeting last evening after the regular service and extended a call to the Rev. J. T. Davis, pastor of the Fifth Avenue Baptist church, McKeesport. It is understood that the Rev. Mr. Davis will accept the call. He has been at McKeesport for eight years and prior to his McKeesport pastorate he preached at Greenville. The pulpit of the First Baptist church, Braddock, was made vacant by the resignation of the Rev. George Street, who recently became pastor of the new Swissvale congregation which he helped to organize.

RACE TRACK FOLLOWERS ARE ORDERED ARRESTED

Gov. Folk Instructs Sheriff of St. Louis County as to the Violaters of Anti-Betting Law.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

JEFFERSON CITY, MO., June 18.—Gov. Folk today, after a conference with Attorney General Hadley, sent a letter to Sheriff Herpel, of St. Louis county, ordering the arrest of all race track followers who bet on horses in violation of the anti-betting law. Gov. Folk says in the letter:

"Information having come to me that a number of persons have been openly committing felonies in St. Louis county by registering wagers, or bets, on horse races in defiance of law, and that it is proposed to continue this felonious conduct, which condition is one that cannot be, and will not be, tolerated in Missouri, you are hereby directed to summon a sufficient number of deputies to arrest all those participating either as principals or accessories in these crimes and to call on citizens if necessary to aid you in suppressing these violations of law.

"You will kindly give this your immediate attention and if the local facilities are not enough to enable you to uphold the authority of the state, the executive will furnish you such help as will effectually sustain the reign of law."

The governor left this afternoon for St. Louis.

GOING AFTER $25,000.

That Is the Standard Set by Orphan's Picnic Managers for This Year's Receipts.

At the meeting of the St. Paul's orphans picnic managers last night in the Washington street Lyceum, A. S. McSwiggan, the newly elected chairman, reported on what he had done during the past week and promised to keep the movement going until the $25,000 mark is reached.

Bishop Canevin was present for the first time this year and made an address urging the committees to make every exertion for the success of the picnic. He characterized work for the orphans as the most honorable and becoming form of labor. He had aided in this field for 20 years and knew the people who helped and the people who are indifferent. There are 150,000 adults in the county and success was simply a matter of reaching them. He laid stress on the advance sale of tickets, saying that every sale placed the picnic, its object and its date, in the mind of the purchaser.

Frank J. Totten, chairman of the committee on distribution of tickets, reported the measures that had been taken and promised the greatest advance sale in the history of the big picnic. All the reports from the parishes taking an active part indicated an increased interest and it was evident that the detail work is much further advanced than is customary three weeks before the picnic. The rest of the sub-committees will probably be announced this week.

John T. McAuley Will Be Acting Superintendent of Allegheny Police for a Time.

McAuley acting superintendent of police during the illness of John Glenn, who has been holding that position since the suspension of M. H. Campbell. Glenn is seriously ill at his home, with an attack of throat and nasal troubles. McAuley is assistant chief clerk and stenographer in Director Scandrett's office.

Director Scandrett also reinstated Jacques LaBelle as clerk to the superintendent of police. LaBelle was dismissed from the position some time ago for insubordination.

They are Dr. B. M. Bartilson and David F. Melville.

LABOR DAY WILL SEE BIG PARADE

No Factional Fight Develops at Meeting of Committee and Harmony Rules.

NEW OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

Delegates from all the labor organizations in the county decided to have a parade on Labor day, in September. This action was taken by a vote of 82 to 30, after a lively debate on the question whether to celebrate the day with a parade or with a big outing, to be addressed by prominent labor leaders. The meeting was held yesterday afternoon in old city hall.

Reports that there would be factional strife between the Knights of Labor and the American Federation of Labor were not borne out. It had been said that the federation opposed the project of a parade, while the Knights of Labor favored it, but in the debate some knights wanted a picnic and some federationists wanted a parade.

The meeting was not so large as expected, for the day was hot and delegates attended chiefly from Pittsburgh and Allegheny only. It was called to order by John Fernau, who was chairman of last year's Labor day celebration, the old officers holding over until the election of their successors.

The election of officers resulted as follows: Chairman, N. S. Glass, of the Sheetmetal Workers' union; vice chairman, George Boyd, Structural Ironworkers; secretary, G. W. Driver, Printers' union; assistant secretary, W. J. Kelly, Carpenters' union; treasurer, M. R. McAuley, Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

The debate on how to celebrate the day followed the election of officers. The advocates of an outing maintained that to carry out their proposition would entail less expense on the individual labor organizations and would be better attended by organized labor than a parade would be, while the advocates of a parade contended that a great procession of organized labor was the best method of showing the public and the employers that labor unions are still strong in numbers and influence. It was asserted by picnic advocates that many labor organizations would not march in the parade and that every year Labor day processions had been growing smaller. However, the advocates of a parade won the day and after the vote was taken many of those who wanted another kind of celebration gave notice that they would do their best to make the parade a great success.

Chairman Glass will prepare a list of those to form an executive committee, naming one representative from each labor organization. He will submit these names to a meeting of all the officers elected, and if the list is approved he will notify each committeeman by mail of his appointment.

The retiring treasurer reported a balance of $24.78 remaining over from the last Labor day celebration.

EXCITING FINISH IS EXPECTED IN YACHT RACE

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, June 18.—Nearly all the yachts which started from Dover yesterday in the annual race from Dover to Heligoland for Emperor William's cup, including the American yacht Atlantic, winner of the trans-Atlantic race, remained becalmed and anchored outside the Goodwin sands off Ramsgate until the finish of the ebb tide last night. The Valhalla was drifting down the channel between Dover and Folkstone.

Early this morning a sharp thunderstorm with vivid lightning lighted the sea and revealed the yachts for a long distance, and completely changed the weather. A sharp squall followed, necessitating caution with the sails. The squall developed into a fine breeze from the southwest. The yachts, which were then quickly skimming the water at a fine pace, presented a splendid sight.

The American yacht Apache left Dover bay this morning under full canvas, following the Heligoland course. If the strong wind continues it is believed there will be an exciting finish between the Atlantic and the Earl of Crawford's yacht Valhalla.

KAISER IS DEEPLY HURT.

Singing Societies Will Not Compete for Prizes, Even If Offered by Emperor.

BERLIN, June 18.—(Special Cable.)—The kaiser is said to be deeply hurt over the action of the convention of German Singing Societies, now in session at Eisenach, which has declared against competition of the various societies for a prize, even if this was offered by the kaiser, because competitions of this kind do not further the interest of art.

Coming immediately after the kaiser openly expressed interest in these competitions and his wish that the next might be held at Frankfort-on-the-Main, the action of the convention amounts almost to lese majeste.

Choosing Plans for Brewery.

Charles S. Black, John Lauler, Theodore Huckestein and P. H. Nolan went east last night as a committee of the stockholders of the Mutual Union Brewing company, formed by licensed saloonkeepers. Mr. Black said the committee would call on Architects C. Otto Wolf of Philadelphia and William Grieser of New York and inspect breweries designed by them. The Mutual Union company intends to build a $400,000 brewery at Irwin.

UNCLEAN CITIES DUE TO MAYORS

Dr. J. T. McCrory Says Immorality Is Chargeable to Weak or Corrupt Officials.

LAUDS ALLEGHENY CRUSADE

"The immorality and vice under which we groan and blush is chargeable to corrupt and perjured or weak and contemptible officials. Men are put into most important positions and kept there by mayors and high officials until by some chance the law gets hold of them and sends them to the penitentiary, and not unfrequently they get out of prison and come back into office and repeat their rascality and corruption."

This announcement was made by the Rev. Dr. J. T. McCrory from his pulpit in the Third United Presbyterian church last evening, during his sermon on "Shall Our Cities be Clean?" He held that the influence of the churches should be recognized and encouraged in an effort to morally purify the government and civic affairs of the cities, and said in part:

The people themselves insist on the application of Bible righteousness and morality to municipal affairs. There is not a commonwealth in this great nation that has not sought to safeguard the morals of its citizens by making laws for their protection. The laws of this commonwealth, supported as they are by city ordinances, enforced, would make our community all that legislation could make it.

One can sit in the criminal court any day and hear witnesses on the stand acknowledge that they have been guilty of the most abominable vice and immorality and then see them walk out of court and go right back to their crimes without one word being said to them by sheriff or constable or police official. God and our country demand of us that we hold every official to his solemn oath and insist on protection.

Public sentiment demands that our cities be clean and safe. There is universal applause of the effort to clean out the stygian corruption of Allegheny. Every newspaper in the city is in sympathy with the movement. And should they not be? These vices are poisoning the very atmosphere and lowering the moral tone of the entire community. No legislature would think for one moment of legalizing these awful abominations. Even the police officials who do it are doing it in spite of their official oath and no man perjures himself for the good of his country. These men who legalize these places of vice are assuming the powers of the legislature instead of doing their simple duty as executors. They make their own low moral sense the law for this city. If such officials share in the profits of vice, who need be surprised? There is absolutely no excuse for the present corrupt condition of our cities. Let honest, upright, clean, citizens rise up and demand the enforcement of the law.

"What do these preachers know, anyway, about the government of a great city?" How familiar that sneer in our day when a civic organization with which preachers have to or a ministers' organization calls attention to some ghastly immorality fostered by the police officers. And yet the preachers are deeply concerned for the real well-being of the city. They want the city safe and clean, and every man of God in every pulpit of every city ought to be a watchman on behalf of municipal righteousness and woe be to the city when they will permit themselves to be sneered into silence.

CONDEMNS JURY-FIXERS IN HIS SABBATH SERMON

The Rev. Dr. Partridge Makes Some Caustic Remarks In Reference to One-Day Christians.

"The Ten Commandments in Daily Life," was the sermon theme of the Rev. Dr. Warren G. Partridge in the Fourth Avenue Baptist church yesterday morning. Dr. Partridge spoke from Romans xiii:10, "Therefore love is the fulfilling of the law." He scored such church members who violated the dictates of the scripture six days a week and lead pious lives on the other day and condemned jury-fixers. He said in part:

Many men have lived in immorality, while they have pretended that they loved God. Some church members attend church on Sunday and "water stocks" on Monday. Other church members worship God in form on Sunday in their favorite church, and on Monday run some political machine for "graft only." Genuine love to God and man will result in every day honesty and integrity. True love to God is a great tap root from which all virtues and graces will grow like beautiful flowers. The first command prohibits idolatry.

But multitudes in modern times worship pleasure and money-grabbing. Covetousness is idolatry. Hundreds in Pittsburgh worship the golden calf. The second commandment prohibits image worship. If the Russians had in their army less worship of Icons and less drunkenness and "graft," they could win some victories. This Russian image-worship is rank superstition and makes their religion contemptible in the eyes of many intelligent people. Russia must learn to worship God in spirit and in truth, and love justice, temperance, mercy, the pure and the right in society, and throw overboard her antiquated Icons and all other relics of heathenism and bigotry and superstition. The third command prohibits perjury and profanity. Swearing and cursing and profanity are a disgrace to our American civilization. The practice puts a man outside the pale of the society of true gentlemen. If one's bad temper, lack of self-control, lack of reverence and good breeding. Perjury is too frequent inside of our court houses. True manhood trembles before the awful sin of perjury.

It is said that professional "jury-fixers" infest our court house. This brood of vampires should be punished to the full extent of the law, and they should be held up to public abhorrence. If any unscrupulous lawyers have stooped into the mire of this infamy, they should be disbarred and never permitted again to disgrace the bar of Allegheny county. The fourth command prohibits the desecration of the Sabbath. Every human being needs physically, morally, socially, intellectually, and spiritually one rest-day in every seven. We must see that the poor and the working people especially are not robbed of their day of rest. The fifth command requires respect for parents. The family is an older institution than the church. Most criminals come from bad homes. America must do more to preserve the sacredness of home-life.

TELLS OF JAPANESE.

President of Christian College Delivers Address from Pulpit on Conditions Prevailing in Far East.

The Rev. Dr. David B. Schneder, president of North Japan college, the most influential Christian educational institution in Northern Japan, occupied the pulpit of Grace Reformed church, Dithridge and Bayard streets, yesterday morning. Dr. Schneder has just arrived from the Flowery Kingdom and previous to his departure was invited to meet with the prime minister of that country in conference, during which the latter impressed him with the high appreciation Japan had for the friendship of America, for the education that the United States had offered and for helping to bring about "New Japan."

Dr. Schneder graphically set forth the facts in the present situation in the far east. He told how the moral tone of the Japanese was rising and referred to the recent declaration of the leaders of that kingdom that religion was the only basis for morality and that Christianity was the best of all religions. He predicted that largely through the work of churches in the United States Japan would ere long become a Christian nation and that when this was accomplished a triple alliance would be formed between America, England and Japan for the advancement of righteousness, rather than for political purposes. Dr. Schneder returns in August to dedicate new college buildings.

The Rev. Dr. E. K. Bell, pastor of the First Lutheran church, Baltimore, who is here attending the Lutheran General Synod convention and who was a classmate of the Rev. Dr. John H. Prugh in college, occupied the pulpit of Grace church last night and delivered an impressive sermon on "The Holy Spirit."

AUTOMOBILISTS HEAR HOW THEY MAY DO GOOD

The Rev. S. Edward Young Suggests That They Pay Some Little Attention to the Orphans.

At the first Schenley park service of the season last evening the Rev. Edward Young made a suggestion to the automobilists who were gathered around the area in front of the band stand, saying:

You automobilists who frequently halt your cars at this park service and decorously listen, some of you remaining clear through to the benediction, you can preach a sermon worth any dozen delivered in Pittsburgh this year. This is how. Have a day for taking orphans and the poorest children off for a whirl into the country and a spread out there and a rollicking time. Impracticable? I knew you would say that; so I am ready with the fact that 100 automobilists of New York did this very thing week before last, taking a host of youngsters fairly yelling with delight to Coney Island and back.

The Rev. Mr. Young's text was I. Peter, ii:21, "Leaving us an xample that ye should follow His steps." He said:

As there is a piece of metal in Paris which all the world has agreed to call a pound, no other portion of any substance weighing exactly 16 ounces, unless it precisely this that in the scales, as a particular length of aluminum kept in London tells to a hair's breadth the standard measure of one yard, as the clock in the Allegheny observatory gives the minute and second of time to the vast railroad system that es time is read from God's stars; so Jesus Christ is now acknowledged to be the standard of character measure for the whole humanity. He is the writing copy, to render our text literally. Christlikeness comes and comes only by Christ Himself reliving in us. He thus indwells us when our inmost wills surrender to Him.

At the Schenley park service the Second Brigade band rendered the instrumental music. Conductor Sheary led the congregational singing and the chorus of Second Presbyterian church assisted. In West Park, Allegheny, where services will again be held next Sunday, the Homestead Library band furnished instrumental music.

IDEAL VS. REAL.

Baccalaureate Preacher Urges the Cultivation of Visions.

The baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of Pittsburgh academy was preached in the First Presbyterian church last night by the pastor, the Rev. Dr. Maitland Alexander. Notwithstanding the sweltering heat the large church was filled to its capacity with graduates, their friends and members of the congregation.

Dr. Alexander took for his sermon theme "The Ideal vs. the Real." He contended that imagination was a great gift. That it was the power that gave birth to invention and action. He urged his hearers to cultivate visions, to try to attain their visions rather than following in the footsteps of others. He held that it was not profitable to live in a practical world at all times, but to listen to voices that told of greater things and reach for the hands that invited an uplighting.

THE CITY REDEEMED IS NOT IMPOSSIBLE

The Rev. U. S. Greves Says This Dream Can Be Realized by Preaching Gospel.

"Jesus and the City" was the sermon theme of the Rev. U. S. Greves in the Forty-third Street Presbyterian church, Lawrenceville, last evening. He contended that the "city redeemed" was not beyond possibility and that the same gospel which was preached in the cities of old would have the same influences in the cities of today. He spoke from the texts Luke iv:43: "I must preach the good tidings to the cities," and Luke xix:41, "And when he drew nigh, he saw the city and wept over it," and said in part:

"The first city was built by the first murderer." So speaks a twentieth-century teacher. "I have seen violence and strife in the city; mischief also and sorrow are in the midst of it." So spake an inspired teacher centuries before Christ. But the Bible closes with another picture—the city redeemed.

The truth about the modern city is a composite of these two pictures. It is a place of the lowest infamy and of the highest nobility; of the exercise of the basest passions and of the most splendid virtues; of filth and death, heaven and hell, purity and putridity. Jesus wept over it, and well He might! But He preached the gospel to it and the whole city was moved. The city is at once the nerve-center and the storm-center of our civilization.

The marvelous growth of the urban population in our country is responsible for most of the perils of the city. From 1720 to 1830 the whole population increased twelvefold; the city population 86-fold. Religion and morality must needs travel with winged feet to keep up with such a pace.

Though Jesus met not with the same forms of civic problems common among us, yet the evils of a congested population were well known to Him. He was city-born and city-bred, lived and worked and died in a city. The cities of His time had all of the sorrows of our day, with none of our agencies of relief. Sympathy for suffering was so rare that His compassion for the helpless seemed nothing less than divine.

But this is the question: Is the gospel He preached to the cities of His day equal to the problem of our complex civic life? The answer is writ large in history. City problems are at bottom eternally the same, and the gospel has never failed when applied to sin and corruption in any form of any time. An answer is closer at hand. There is at present in this country an uprising against vice and iniquity in the high places of city life that is short nothing of a revolution. It is the old leaven of the gospel of Christ at work. The victories of Japan over Russia are as nothing compared to it. There is no violence and little demonstration, but the irresistible might of a Christian civilization and Christian sentiment is shattering the idols of shame in their own temples.

The city redeemed is not "an iridescent dream," as an American politician once said unto his own destruction. It is a type of the heavenly city which Christ at a later day described, and to which admittance can be gained only through Him.

NEWS AND FEATURES HELP BUILD UP A GREAT PAPER

Sunday Gazette Offers First Course of Substantials and Follows It With Choice Delicacies.

Of course all of the news if the world was found in The Sunday Gazette, but that wasn't all. In sitting down for the discussion of a good meal a goodly portion of the pleasure lies in the anticipation of the delicacies which lie just over the border line from the substantials. "The stuff that sticks to the ribs" is highly necessary for one part of the meal, but what of the dessert? So yesterday's great paper spread upon a snowy cloth as the first literary course all about the progress which is being made in the interest of peace between belligerent Japan and Russia, all of the great happenings in the old world and all that took place in our own country, and followed it up with some highly spiced feature stories after the corn-beef and cabbage had been disposed of.

For instance there was an interview with Joseph B. Foraker which told of his rise and progress, a tale of London by Hayden Church, which tells of what an expensive place the capitol of the British Isles is to live in, a story by Col. A. K. McClure on "The Color Line in the North," and countless others, all good things and well-written.

Japan has assured China that Manchuria will be restored to her sovereignty and Russia has finally agreed to Washington as the meeting place of the peace congress. Germany and France will probably ask President Roosevelt to help settle the Moroccan dispute, of which advices to Washington were that the situation is delicate but that war is improbable. Gen. Maximo Gomez, the hero of the Cuban war, died in Havana.

Many persons were killed and injured by a collision on the Western Maryland railroad. Five special agents of the United States government will start soon for Europe and South America in the interest of American trade. President Roosevelt and Attorney General Moody will issue statements this week relative to Paul Morton's connection with the Santa Fee railroad rebates. Equitable directors have brought pressure to bear to keep the society's affairs from consideration by the special session of the legislature. Postmaster General Cortelyou has caused a fraud order to be issued against a chemical preparation which is "guaranteed to turn the blackest skin to purest white." Three men were shot during a strike riot in Chicago. A Virginia backwoods woman gave President Roosevelt a good calling-down.

Employes of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Telephone Company spent a great day at Rose's farm. W. A. Magee, Jr., has made public a draft of his proposed Republican county rules. City solicitor found a defect in the title for a site for an engine house in the Eighteenth ward. Threats of Twentieth ward councilmen to oppose "hump" ordinance secured a disputed job. Attorneys for ex-Capt. James Wilson will ask for two new trials. Receiver for Joseph Simpson, proprietor of the Atlas, was given authority to sell the saloon for $38,000. A verdict of guilty with a plea for mercy was rendered in the suit against Jacob Sloan, Sophia Sloan, Abraham Furman and Henry Weinstock. Fusion conferees will hold their first meeting on Wednesday. Chinese reformers and conservatives have been arraigned against each other in Pittsburgh. Report read at Lutheran general synod gives hope of unity with two other governing bodies.

By defeating the Quakers the Pirates moved back into second place. Cy Seymour of Cincinnati is the leading batsman in the National league, closely followed by Hans Wagner, Jimmy Britt and "Kid" Sullivan have been matched to meet in a 20-round fight in San Francisco next month. Western horsemen won $30,000 on a western horse at Sheepshead Bay.

Stock markets remained extremely dull and closed slightly lower. The weekly bank statement showed an increase of $15,000,000 in loans and a decrease of $2,618,600 in surplus reserve. Wheat was strong at the finish.

MEDICAL OPINIONS OF

BUFFALO LITHIA WATER

Experience "Fully Demonstrates the Value of Buffalo Lithia Water as a Solvent of Uric Acid, and a Valuable Therapeutic Agent in the Treatment of Gout."

L. H. Warner, A. M., Ph. G., M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y., in a paper entitled "The Treatment of Gout, Uric Acid Diathesis and super-induced Cystitis in the cases of two Idiosyncratic Patients," gives full clinical notes of these interesting cases, and in a lecture before the recent meeting of the Alabama Medical Association showed stereopticon views of the blood and urine of these patients in different stages of improvement. He says: "My former good results from the use of BUFFALO LITHIA WATER in cases of Rheumatism due to Uric Acid intoxication led me to suggest this agent to my patients. The use of nitrogenous foods was restricted and a full half gallon of BUFFALO LITHIA WATER per day was ordered to be taken. I was more than surprised at the amount of Uric Acid sand eliminated with each urination, and three weeks from the beginning of treatment not a trace of the former cystitis existed. BUFFALO LITHIA WATER as the only medication used, in four months, with an increase of 8% Haemoglobin, 200,000 red cells and a normal count of white cells, while the urine appears without any pathological factors. These cases fully demonstrate the value of BUFFALO LITHIA WATER as a solvent of Uric Acid and a valuable therapeutic agent in the treatment of Gout."

Louis C. Horn, M. D., Ph. D., Professor of Diseases of Children and Dermatology in Baltimore University, writes: "Having used BUFFALO LITHIA WATER in my practice in the past eight or nine years, I find it the most pleasant and most reliable solvent in Chronic Inflammation of the Bladder and Renal Calculi; also in gouty and rheumatic conditions. It is a remedy of great potency."

"UNDER A DEBT OF GRATITUDE TO THIS MOST EXCELLENT WATER FOR WONDERFUL RELIEF."

Wm. C. Wile, A.M., M.D., LL.D., of Danbury, Conn., reports the following (New England Medical Monthly, December 15, 1888): "In a recent outbreak of Nephritic Colic in our own person, BUFFALO LITHIA WATER was speedily cut the attack, under the short, the stones quickly passed, and the debris which followed showed a thorough cleansing of the kidneys and bladder of all foreign substances. All of the reflex symptoms and sequelæ were promptly relieved, and we feel under a deep debt of gratitude to this most excellent Water for wonderful relief."

WALL STREET IS WAITING DEFINITE CROP FORECAST

Speculators Who Pinned Their Faith in Revival of Activity the Past Week Are Wofully Disappointed.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 18.—Wall street has fallen upon dull days, which, so far as anyone can determine to the contrary, are likely to continue for some time longer. The market, like a sleeping dog, might, to be sure, be aroused suddenly by a violent kick, a clod, a stick or a stone thrown at it, but barring that event it bids fair to slumber on until the problems of the harvest outcome are more definitely ascertainable than at present, and the alchemy of time works forgetfulness of some things which have recently disturbed the public mind, and which still exert a deterrent influence upon investment and speculative undertakings.

Developments of the week, or rather of the latter days of the preceding week, were not illuminating, except in so far as they showed conclusively that the game is to be one of waiting. Professional speculators who pinned their faith in a revival of activity upon the deal devised to adjust the Equitable Life dispute, upon the appointment of plenipotentiaries by Russia and Japan to treat for peace and upon the government crop report for June, or who hoped that the combined influence of the three would suffice to arouse public interest, were woefully disappointed. Some bear traders covered their short commitments and some emboldened professionals forget their great grievance over the transfer tax and began to bid up prices. Enthusiasm soon oozed out, however, for it was made clear that the psychological moment for starting the market had not arrived.

It is like the task of Sisyphus for professional traders alone to attempt to roll stock prices to the top and make them stick there. As a matter of fact they never do remain permanently at any given level, but to be even partially successful in the task of enhancing security prices, the machinery of Wall street must ever be reinforced with the leverage of the big men who make the market. The list of absentees of the first class from Wall street is a long one, and one which is steadily lengthening. It appears clear that of the class of "men who do things in the market," those who remain behind "to keep the lid on," are either disinclined to act without their compatriots or have not yet determined the future sufficiently to set the wheel a-spinning and call the players to the game.

Recent events have left few, if any, illusions as to Wall street. The participation in the simple gambling side of the market by men whose names were used to conjure with and the utilization of funds of life insurance companies, banks and trust companies to further pool and syndicate operations, stands clearly revealed. That mine of information on modern corporation management, known as the Frick report made in connection with the investigation of the Equitable Life Assurance society, throws a flood of light not only upon what took place in that institution under the old management, but clears up many things that to simple minds have been mysterious. The establishment of auxiliary institutions, the banding together of corporation managers, banks and bankers, carried to such a degree in the Equitable Life exists elsewhere. That the case of the Equitable is not regarded as isolated is clearly enough indicated by former President Cleveland's letter to Mr. Ryan accepting the voting trusteeship of the Equitable Life.

It is purely a monstrous state of affairs when a former president of the United States is forced from his retirement to gather up again the shattered fragments of the decalogue so that men may again decipher the words of the commandment: "Thou shalt not steal." But it is necessary, for the standard of business morality has sunk low. This has been evinced in countless ways; in the open employment of bankers of manipulators with their lying stories; in the continued "milking" of the public by bankers' pools in the stock market; in the spendthrift administration of corporations by men who treat them as their own property; in wild schemes of promotion regardless of value of the constituent plants; in reckless plans of capitalization and fuggiery in corporate affairs, bunching things together and separating them again because they would not go in the stock market in the form; in the use of trust funds by syndicates in speculative ventures or in coups whereby banks and trust companies have been "bunched up" and their stock inflated and in a host of scheming adventures.

All things considered, it is not much a matter of surprise that the plan to adjust the Equitable matter should have fallen flat in Wall street. So little was really accomplished and with but one institution, when so much more in the way of reformation is necessary there, and if former President Cleveland is to be taken literally, with numerous other institutions as well. Despite the extreme dullness of the stock market there have been no signs of disturbing liquidation, which gives an indication that securities are well held.

REVIEW OF THE WEEK IN THE LOCAL MARKETS

Conditions Were Generally Unsatisfactory and Uncertain, With Lower Prices.

The past week was not a particularly cheerful one in the local markets. Prices have been dropping down, but in spite of this business did not seem to pick up. There was a bright spot or two, notably Saturday morning, when good trade was experienced. The week through was not productive of much business.

Provisions continue to rise and pork products are higher now than they have been for almost a year. An advance of a quarter to a half-cent per pound was noted Saturday in almost every article in the provision line. There is little hope of relief in this line, for good pork is really scarce. Corn was a good crop last year, but other food crops were short. As a result farmers fattened and butchered most of their hogs last fall, the market being high, and this year there is a consequent shortage of hogs for killing. It is the confident belief of the farmer element that pork will be much higher towards fall than it is now.

Flour was in an uncertain state all week. There were few large purchases. The Northwestern Miller reports the flour situation as worse than it has been any time yet. The mills are not running half time and cannot sell what they grind. Harvesting wheat has commenced in Oklahoma and southern Missouri. The crop is spotted and there is no indication yet what it will amount to. In the Manitoba country the crop is in fine condition and an immense yield is expected. Rains have hurt it some in Minnesota and the Dakotas, but the prospects now are favorable and there is every indication that the first claims of a record-breaking crop will be fulfilled. This is bound to have its effect on the wheat market and following that the flour market. The advance in wheat Saturday stiffened flour considerably but dealers are confident a drop is coming.

Green goods, fruit and produce have not done so well the past week. This will be the last week of the strawberry crop. There may be a few more arrivals, but the berries are about done and the price is rising accordingly. Raspberries also advanced sharply Saturday. Blackberries are very scarce and high.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts.

Receipts Saturday were: Pennsylvania, 15 cars hay, 13 cars oats, 6 cars corn, 4 cars feed, 1 car straw at Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 5 cars hay, 2 cars oats, 1 car corn; Baltimore & Ohio, 7 cars hay, 3 cars oats.

The week has not been satisfactory to the hay and grain dealers, especially in hay. The market has declined some every day and there is an uncertainty still as to whether or not it has reached bottom. Oats and corn continue strong and prices the last of the week were fully as good as at any time during the preceding days just ended. Little or no change is noted in millfeed. Receipts of straw are heavier and the market is lower.

WHEAT GROWS STRONG LATE IN THE SESSION

Continued Cold, Wet Weather in Northwest Starts Active Covering by Shorts.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, June 17.—Continued cold, wet weather in the northwest started active covering by shorts in the wheat pit here today and caused a strong finish. The July delivery was up an even cent at the close. Corn is up ½@1c. Oats show a gain of ¼@¾c. Provisions are up 5@10c. Strength in the wheat market developed late in the session. At the start sentiment was quite bearish and initial quotations on July were off ⅛c to ¼c to ¼@⅜c, at 87⅞c to 88c. Weakness at the opening was due to reports of excellent weather for harvesting throughout the southwest. In addition advices of good yields of wheat gave bears incentive to sell. Many traders who bought yesterday were today eager to dispose of holdings. One prominent trader particularly had liberal offerings. As a result prices declined, July selling off to 87⅛c. During the last half of the session sentiment suddenly veered to bullishness, the market becoming extremely strong. The principal reason for the change in sentiment was fear for the spring-sown crop, fresh advices from Minneapolis telling of additional damage by unfavorable weather conditions. From St. Louis came a dispatch claiming that recent heavy rains in Kansas had greatly damaged the wheat crop. Alarmed by these reports shorts made an attempt to cover sales, but offerings were lacking. The result was a quick advance which carried the price of July up to 89¼@89¾c. Commission houses were active buyers late in the session. The market closed nearly at the top price of the day, final quotations on July being at 89¼@89¾c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 67,500 bushels. Primary receipts were 223,800 bushels, compared with 256,900 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 169 cars, against 193 cars last week and 301 cars a year ago.

Strength of wheat caused a sharp upturn in corn prices. Early in the session the market was inclined to weakness as a result of ideal weather conditions throughout the corn belt. Another factor that had a depressing effect was a considerable decline at Liverpool. Later, however, sentiment became bullish, largely in sympathy with wheat. Reports of light acceptances had a strengthening effect. Receipts at primary points were liberal, but shipments were correspondingly large. The market closed at practically the highest point of the day. July opened unchanged to ⅛c lower at 52⅝c to 52¾c, sold up to 53⅜c and closed at 53¼c to 53½c. Local receipts were 438 cars, with 128 of contract grade.

Excellent weather and weakness of other grain had a depressing influence on the oats market early in the session. Later the market became quite firm in sympathy with the upturn in wheat and corn. July opened a shade to ⅛@¼c lower at 30⅝c to 31c, sold up to 31⅜c and closed at the top. Local receipts were 180 cars.

Provisions were firm on a fair demand from packers. Offerings were light. At the close September pork was up 10c at $18 10. Lard was up 5c at 37 52½. Ribs were 10c higher at $7 85@7 87½.

Estimated receipts for Monday: Wheat, 1 car; corn, 494 cars; oats, 95 cars; hogs, 32,000 head.

FIREMAN IS OVERCOME.

Succumbs to Fumes of Sulphur While Responding to False Alarm.

The attendants at the Shelter Home, 210 Third avenue, were fumigating the fifth floor of the house yesterday by burning sulphur in large iron pots. Somebody saw the smoke coming from the windows and thinking the place was on fire gave the alarm. Lieut. John Martin of No. 2 hose company climbed the fire escape to the fifth floor and jumped into a room. He was overcome by the fumes of the sulphur and fell to the floor.

Capt. Schloss of No. 30 engine company followed Lieut. Martin to the fifth floor and found the latter unconscious. Schloss carried Martin down the fire escape and had him taken to the Homeopathic hospital. Martin later was able to resume duty, the fumes doing him no great harm.

When workmen hauled him out of the sticky pool he was covered from head to foot with the coal tar. His hair and mustache will have to be shaved off. The tar entered his eyes and physicians are at a loss to know how to remove it without injury to the membrane.

When fished out Kraft was helpless from intoxication and was turned over to the police, who locked him in the city prison.

COMBINED PARK AND PLAYGROUND

Contract Soon to Be Let for Recreation Spot in Congested Lawrenceville.

YELLOW SMOKE STACK TO GO

Supt. G. W. Burke has plans for a fine park and playground in the Lawrenceville district, on the property purchased by the city from the Schoenberger estate, at Forty-sixth and Butler streets. The lot consists of four and a half acres. It is proposed to terrace the grounds for 100 feet back from Butler street for a park effect, with cement walks, benches and trees.

About 12 feet above and in the rear of the park section is to be the playground for the children of the congested Butler street district. On the playground will be erected a $1,000 shelter house. Bids on the work will be opened on June 28.

Hundreds of people found Schenley and Highland parks a great solace yesterday morning, afternoon and evening. Although they had considerable distance to walk from the car line, Schenley park was well populated where there were trees. In the evening the crowds in Schenley were increased, many being drawn by the open-air religious meetings.

Although the thermometer stood close to 100 degrees in the conservatory quite a number of out-of-town visitors braved the extra heat to inspect the hothouse plants. The majority of the visitors to Highland preferred the cool and shady nooks to the zoo, although the latter had its share of the juvenile spectators.

The park authorities say that the big yellow smokestack of the Carnegie institute, that stands 150 feet in the air near the entrance to Schenley park, is to be removed. It was of this smokestack that Director Bigelow complained and its unsightly appearance alongside the stone walls of the new institute is often the subject of unfavorable comment by visitors.

The smokestack is completed and the removal of it will be a big job and a heavy expense. It is at the power house of the institute and is located in Junction hollow, but towers high above the institute building. According to the park people it is to be torn down and replaced with a stone stack of lower altitude.

The trolley parks entertained big crowds yesterday with concert bands, quartets and specialty performers. At Calhoun Nirella's Fourteenth Regiment band gave two entertaining concerts. The evening program consisted of popular airs from the late comic operas.

There was an exceptionally large crowd at Southern park both afternoon and evening. The day was known as "Monongahela Valley day." The Charlerol concert band, assisted by the H. J. Lindsay quartet and Robin F. Heath, monologist, gave the concerts. Myer's Braddock Library band, the Lone Star quartet and James E. Lawler and daughters were at Oakwood park.

Kennywood also had a big day. It was "German day" and thousands were in attendance. The Dauberger family was the chief attraction. The Roceréto band helped with the entertainment. Tomorrow night there will be a big novelty at Kennywood in the shape of a snowball battle, in which more than a ton of confetti and cotton will be used.

TO CARE FOR OLD OFFICERS.

Fund of 10,000,000 Marks Has Been Collected Among Wealthy Men of Germany.

BERLIN, June 18.—(Special Cable.)—No longer will the sight of decrepit colonels spending their declining years in semi-poverty after having served their country with honor, hurt the eyes and feelings of German patriots.

Quietly and unostentatiously a fund of 10,000,000 marks has been collected among the financiers and aristocrats of Germany and this large amount of money to which, undoubtedly, other donations will be added from time to time, is to be turned over to the kaiser, that he may divide the interest among officers who have no private fortune and who have distinguished themselves. Part of the fund may be used to enable poor officers to marry.

RUSSIAN PRISONERS RIOT AND ARE FLOGGED

REVAL, RUSSIA, June 18.—A riot of 200 prisoners, owing to alleged maltreatment, broke out in the prison here last night and was only quelled at 3 o'clock this morning with the aid of troops from the garrison. The rioters, who included women, smashed the furniture and the windows and attempted to escape, but the police and soldiers effectively held all exits. The offenders were flogged today.

CHINESE LAUD MR. ROOSEVELT

Oriental Reformer Tells Local Celestials President Wants Exclusion Laws Modified.

WILL HOLD JUBILEE TONIGHT

The campaign for long-range reform in China is proceeding unabated in Pittsburgh. His excellency Kang Yee Dei, on whose head the empress dowager once put a price of several trainloads of oriental coin to the value of $140,000, yesterday made a three-hour speech on the betterment of the Flowery Kingdom and incidentally made an eloquent plea for the modification of the Chinese exclusion law. President Roosevelt, he said, had given the promise that some features of the law especially objectionable to the Celestials would be repealed.

"The doors of the United States must be opened to the Chinese tourist and scholar," said his excellency while addressing 300 Chinamen in the Fourth Avenue Baptist church. "The exclusion law stands in the way of the Chinaman who seeks to gain western ideas of civilization and indirectly it places an embargo upon the commercial relations between America and the far east. Our men of wealth and leisure and our learned men naturally turn to this country when they travel beyond the realms of the rising sun, and it is embarrassing for them to knock at the eastern shores of the Pacific and find statutes which in a large measure prevent their welcome.

Speaks for the President.

"I carry you a grateful message when I tell you that the president of this great country desires some modification of these laws which in a great measure are as unpopular as the formal refusal of China to recognize the open-door policy in international trade."

His excellency stood beside the pulpit in the chapel of the church and spoke in eloquent voice. He wore his native costume—a blue skull cap covering the roots of his queue, a blue jacket of silk, a blue tunic embroidered with dragons of lighter hues, blue trousers and slippers. He carried a native fan and used it unceasingly with his right hand, while he used his left hand in making very vehement vertical gestures.

In the center of the pulpit sat a sky-blue shell teacup and beside it was a white teapot filled with the steaming beverage. Before him sat 200 yellow men, three or four idlers who had strolled in from the street and half a dozen young women members of the Fourth Avenue congregation. The Chinamen presented a motley array. Some wore queues and others had a pugilist's summer hair-cut. Some retained the native costumes, but the majority wore American garb. A few were togged out in the very latest cut of Prince Albert coats and high hats and others affected tan shoes, flannels and Panama hats.

Applause Was Not Vehement.

On the whole, it was a stolid audience, and when applause was heard it usually came from some isolated corner of the room. He told funny stories, but only a few laughed. He smiled almost continually himself while he spoke. At the end of the first hour he had drained the last drop of tea from the china pot on the pulpit and one of the audience was delegated to go to a nearby Chinese restaurant to procure a fresh supply. In the interim the speaker stood sedately and fanned himself. As soon as the tea was brought he took a generous portion and resumed.

Few in the audience heard all the speech. Some came early and went home before the end of the first half hour. Others came late and remained until the end. The chairs provided in the auditorium were not long suffered to remain empty. Not all the Chinese were friendly to his excellency's sentiments, but they gave no marked hints of disapproval.

Kang Yee Dei is declared by the church people who are entertaining him here to be a man of great wealth. He lived in Hong Kong and was a noted student in the university at Canton.

Compelled to Leave His Country.

One of his first acts upon being made premier in 1898 was to open the Confucian temples to be used as school houses. About this time he was obliged to flee from the country. The anti-reform Chinese declare that his excellency was a school teacher and that his expenses are defrayed by the reform association in this country.

A big celebration will be held tonight in his honor at Riverview park by the Sunday school pupils of the Second Presbyterian church. There will be the usual program of field sports and his excellency will be called upon to referee a Chinese ball game. At sundown $1,000 worth of fireworks will be burned. The distinguished visitor and his suite will leave on a late train for Washington tonight to meet Secretary of State John Hay.

Hopes of the Butler field Are Now Pinned to the Northeast

The only development that attracted any attention during the past week was the fourth sand district west of Butler. A summing up of developments shows the results were far from those anticipated and the drills showed where gushers could be found rather than the spouters that had been confidently expected. The wells drilled in and completed practically condemned an extension in their respective directions from the McBride gusher. The only well completed that could be regarded as a good producer, and it falls far below a gusher, was the Southern Oil Company's test on the Hartung farm, located about 700 feet southwest of the McBride. It did not have gas pressure sufficient to make it flow, and it is thought when put in proper shape will make a 100-barrel pumper. It will be recalled the initial well on the O. K. Waldron farm, the one to cause all of the excitement and the incentive for paying most lavish bonuses for leases, started at something like 100 barrels an hour.

Without specifying the wells or the farms on which they are located, it can be said that the developments have so far progressed as to clearly show that the producing formation does not extend from the initial well for any considerable distance to the south, southwest, west, east or southwest. In each of the directions named there are those who had faith in the territory, and in some instances backed it up by paying exorbitant prices for leases. In most cases the operators' loss has been to the gain of the landowner. Before the McBride well was drilled in there was scarcely a piece of land but could have been purchased in fee for much less than the bonus money received with the signing of the lease.

There is still one chance left for an extension, and if that fails then the finish is in sight. To the northeast nothing has been completed to condemn an extension in that direction. However, the way the No. 2 on the O. K Waldron farm has declined since it was drilled in makes the distance even in that direction look short. It would be no great surprise if, when two locations have been drilled in that direction, the end shall have been reached and the Butler sand pool take its place with the many congested developments that have marked the discoveries in the old county for a number of years. Early in the development of the present pool there were those who took a hand in securing leases and development work can be regarded as a past master in the oil industry.

Under conditions that once prevailed, when there was no such scarcity of producing territory as now exists, operators would have waited for developments before making heavy investments. Operators placed less than ordinary value on tests that had been drilled in years past and figured the producing line squeezing through between dry holes not 500 feet apart.

It may be noticed in passing that the McBride well introduced the only new discovery to attract any considerable attention in the eastern fields, during the almost expired first half of the current year. Within less than 30 days the end is in sight and the prospects for increasing the production of the entire pool to the point it reached when the first well came in. Eight wells have been completed since the McBride came in and the production of all, as shown by the last reported gauge, does not exceed 500 barrels a day. Of the aggregate 850 barrels can be credited to the Southern Oil Company's Nos. 1 and 2 on the O. K. Waldron farm, 100 barrels each to the same company's Hartung and the same amount to the Phillips Oil and Gas Company's test on a part of the same farm. The production of the last two is estimated. The same can be said of the other wells that have been drilled through the sand and have not yet been put to pumping. If the pool is to have a higher production than just noted it must be found to the northeast.

While development work in the Butler pool was dissipating hopes, nothing of the kind accompanied operations in the lower southwest fields, for the reason that nothing out of the ordinary was anticipated nor is there anything expected in the near future. In all districts light wells continue the rule and the duster list is not forgotten in the struggle for new production. With the market low for the development of that class of territory, there is still considerable new work starting in the old districts and a part located in advance of the old defined limits.

The shallow sand districts furnished the best producers of the week. They were located in the Wick district, Tyler county, and on Yellow creek, Calhoun county. The best of the half dozen in the Carter Oil Company's No. 4 on the H. S. Watson farm in the first-named development. When drilled to the depth which the pay should have been found in the Big Injun the well showed a light producer. At 40 feet in the sand the pay was encountered and the well flowed 85 barrels the ensuing 24 hours. The location is inside of defined limits and does not open up any new territory. This has been one of the remarkable later-day Big Injun developments in the lower southwest. The old wells show remarkable lasting qualities.

In the Yellow Creek district five new wells were completed to the northeast of the district and they ranged in size from 100 to 200 barrels a day. This is still the busy district of the lower country and the results are the most satisfactory.

In the deep sand territory the best producer drilled in is located in the old Garner district, in Marshall county. It is the South Penn Oil Company's test on the E. J. Van Scyoc farm and had an initial production of 125 barrels.

Operators on the Ohio side are not completing as many wells as formerly. The old districts have been very thoroughly drilled over and the search for new pools has not been attended with success.

North of Steubenville, Jefferson county, there is some hope for opening a new Berea grit pool. During the week the Castner Brothers drilled in their No. 4 on the W. P. Bluck farm and got a 60-barrel producer. The development up to the present consists of four producing wells on the Bluck farm, having a total daily production of more than 200 barrels. In trying to extend the pool a dry hole was encountered to the west on the Cross farm.

At New Matamoras in Monroe, and at Newport, in Washington county, an occasional good producer is found. In other districts they are few and far between.

The cutting of the credit balance market for Kansas, Indiana and Oklahoma crude without distributing the market for the eastern product was specially gratifying to eastern producers. In the past a reduction of the middle west quotations has been accompanied by a lower quotation for high-grade crude. On the face of it the expressions of satisfaction at the change look selfish, but when it is known that the production of the eastern fields has for some time been below the consumption, while just the reverse has been recorded in the middle west, the change can not be so regarded.
